Was Held Up by "Yeggs" Near Andover Last Night

BANDITS HOLDING UP LOUIS MERCIER NEAR HAGGETT'S POND.

Louis E. Mercier was Ordered to Hold Up His Hands—George Hoyle of Methuen Was Held Up and Beaten Near Glen Forest—Assailants Did Not Take His Watch and Chain

At a lonely spot on the Lowell road, near Haggett's pond in Andover, there occurred another attempt at highway robbery and perhaps murder at about nine o'clock last night. The victim of the attempted hold-up was Louis E. Mercier, the potato chip and popcorn man of East Meadow road, this city. Two yeggmen, or men suffering from the new disease, "yeggomania," jumped out from a clump of bushes and ordered Mr. Mercier to put up his hands. Mr. Mercier whipped his horse and soon heard the bullets singing around him.

The marks of four bullets were found in his wagon, and one of the deadly slugs, after passing through four large cans of goods, was found lodged in another can four inches from where Mercier was sitting in the wagon.

It was a daring attempt at a hold-up, not think an automatic revolver was used. Mercier described the footpads as stockily built men, weighing between 150 and 170 pounds. Both were of dark complexion and both wore dark clothes. One had a straw hat and the other a cap.

After notifying the police, Mercier borrowed a revolver from a friend in town and started for his home in Lowell. The posse, led by Chief Pomeroy, scoured the vicinity of the holdup, but up to midnight had not secured any clue.

Mercier had been disposing of his goods when night came and he decided to make Lowell early. The Lowell road is not particularly well lighted and in one of the loneliest sections he was surprised to see two men jump out of the bushes and order him to halt. He didn't pay any attention to their commands, but after hearing shots he drove his horse at top speed to the Andover pumping station where he informed the police.

Mercier's wagon was a light, covered affair and it was undoubtedly the shelter afforded by the top that saved Mercier's life, as it was impossible for the footpads to get a line on him once the wagon had passed.

The bullet found in the wagon was fired from a 32-caliber revolver, according to the police. The latter do the last three weeks to be credited to one gang, they are working apparently on that theory in their efforts to apprehend the bandits.

Two of the hold-ups last night were in Dedham, a third in Andover and the other in Methuen, where Officers Emerson and McDermott were killed last Saturday night or Sunday morning while trying to capture farm thieves.

In Dedham, George E. Collier, collector for an insurance company, was bound to a tree and robbed of $25 while on his way home, and Charles N. Rogers, a flour dealer of this city, was chased while driving in Dedham by three men who ordered him to hold up his hands. Mr. Rogers escaped by whipping up his horses, leaving the highwaymen behind.

William Hoyle of 29 Broadway, Methuen, was held up near Glen Forest on the road from Lawrence to Lowell, and was badly beaten by two men, who afterward made their escape.

In Andover, Louis Mercier, a vendor of pop corn and potato chips, was the target for the revolvers of two highwaymen who tried to stop him while he was driving from Andover to Lowell last night. Mercier escaped unhurt.

Armed posses of officers and citizens were patrolling the scenes of the attempted robberies in each of these towns late last night, determined, if possible, to bring the perpetrators to justice. In Methuen the situation due to the boldness of the holdup men is regarded as so serious that last night the members of Company I, 8th regiment, were notified to be in readiness for a call to assist in the search for the yegg men in the woods. It is likely that the militiamen will be called out for this service today.

Applied to our business, let it be known that we endeavor to treat our customers alike—a sure deal for all—the same careful attention to be shown in the two elements as to the owner of the marble mansion on the hill. # NIGHT OF RIOTING

Two White Men Killed, Negro Lynched and 75 Persons Injured

Wild Rioting at Springfield, Ill.—Trouble Started After White Woman Was Assaulted—Homes of Negroes Were Burned Down and State Militia Was Called Out—Prohibition Candidate for President Was Injured

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 15.—Two white men were killed and an unknown negro was lynched, more than 75 persons were injured and two score of houses mostly occupied by negroes, were burned last night as the result of an attempt by a mob to lynch a negro who had assaulted a white woman. After a night of riot, arson and slaughter, the state troops called out by the governor succeeded today in restoring a semblance of order and stopping the fire. One thousand militiamen, including three companies from this city and companies from Bloomington, Decatur, Horace, Pekin and Pontiac are patrolling the streets, and it is believed that further disorder will be prevented. The rioting was precipitated by an assault committed early yesterday morning by a negro upon Mrs. Hurlburt, wife of a street railway conductor. While the woman slept alone in her home on a populous resident street, awaiting the return of her husband, the man broke into the house, dragged her into the rear yard and assaulted her.

Before noon George Richardson, a young negro, was arrested by the sheriff's force, charged with the crime. The victim partially identified the negro. Crowds quickly gathered about the jail, but Sheriff Warner's force and the police were able to preserve order up till nightfall without difficulty.

Shortly after five o'clock a successful rescue was worked by the authorities and Richardson was spirited away to safety.

With the assembled crowds held at bay by the officers, a false run by the fire department temporarily drew the attention of the crowd, during which time the prisoner was hurried down an adjoining alley and at the first corner was pushed into an automobile owned by Harry T. Loper, a restaurant keeper who had been sworn in as a deputy sheriff.

RICHARDESON RUSHED AWAY.

Before the crowd realized what had happened Richardson was being rushed to a point north of the city where a Chicago and Alton train was stopped and he was put aboard with a heavy guard and conveyed to Bloomington and later was taken to Peoria. Along with Richardson was Joe James, another negro prisoner in the county jail who is accused of killing Clergy Ballard, a state mine inspector after attempting an assault upon Ballard's daughter. Ballard went to his daughter's rescue and was stabbed to death.

REUNION OF BROTHERS.

A few days ago Walter Hayes Farwell of Tyngsboro received a letter from his brother, William Hayes of East Jay, Me., the first information he had of him in forty years, both brothers believing the other dead. Recently the brother in Maine, after a long hunt, located his brother's address in Tyngsboro and wrote him. Walter Hayes Farwell was adopted when a boy by the Farwell family of Tyngsboro, and hence the difference in names. Walter Farwell came to town this morning, and speaking of his brother, said: "Forty-two years ago my brother and I met in this city just after we had come from the war, and we had our pockets filled with money. There was a time when I was in Lowell and we had the time of our lives at it. After the muster he went away and I never saw him since and never heard from him until the other day. I wrote back to him that Lowell is in ruins, Joseph H. Gormley, John J. Sullivan, John P. Curley, Cyrus W. Barton, Timothy P. Rothen, John P. Welch Bros., 61-65 Middle st.

EMPLOYEES OUTING

Federal Shoe Company Takes
a Day Off

SHOOTING THE SHUTES

Everybody From Supt. Shanahan Down the Line Went to Revere for First Annual Outing—Supt. Shanahan Gives Shore Dinner to 300 Emloyes

The employees of the Federal Shoe company and their families to the number of 300 took special cars at 7.45 o'clock this morning for their first annual outing at Revere and Wonderland. Everyone had a red badge suitably inscribed and carried a blue banner with inscription: "Federal Shoe Company Employees." Upon arriving at the grounds all had free admission to Wonderland and they took in everything.

At one o'clock all repaired to the Hotel Kensington, where they were the guests of Mr. Daniel W. Shanahan, the popular superintendent of the Federal Shoe company's local plant and under whose administration the plant has been very successful. A first class shore dinner was served that made everybody happy. During the dinner the crowd had much fun though everything was informal. Mr. D. B. Kingsbury, the agent of the company and one of the best known shoe salesmen in the country, was unable to attend and expressed his regrets in a letter which was read by Supt. Shanahan. Mr. J. J. Rogers, formerly with the Federal company, but now superintendent of the shoe shop in the Vermont state prison, at Windsor, wrote a humorous letter of regret, stating that while it would give him the greatest pleasure to be with the crowd his present residence was such that he found it impossible to get away. He was "barred" from attending. Letters of regret were also received from William Jennings Bryan and William Taft. Mr. Bryan stated that he was obliged to keep an engagement with a photograph company today or otherwise he would have been present, while Mr. Taft stated that while he adored shore dinners, the custom of cloth necessary to build him a suit and for that reason he was keeping away from the temptation. Surrogates were added and a boat was drunk to their good health and happiness.

About 2.30 the call to wash was sounded and in a short time the Federals to a man, woman and child were in the line. Ernest Spalding made a hit as a fancy diver and one young lady who didn't want her name mentioned gave an exhibition of swimming that made Annette Kellerman, the professional swimmer, get under a wave and hide. After the bath, the party took to Wonderland again, and Supt. Shanahan made a new record for shooting the chutes. At 7.30 the party were due to leave and expect to arrive home at 10.30. The committee in charge of the outing was as follows: Ernest Spalding, chairman; Supt. Shanahan, Joz. Edwards, Miss Elizabeth Roche, Frank Rogers, Miss Agnes Fitzpatrick, Miss Anna McLaughlin and Joseph Sheppard.

OH! BE JOLLY—JOIN THE TROLLEY.

Cast away your every sorrow,
Bank your troubles for the morrow,
For today we're trifling over with good cheer.

"Spirits" long the line are "bling,"
Everyone is bright and smiling.
This the Federals' annual outing to Revere.

There Old Sol's bright rays are brightest,
And the sky has shed its most inviting hue.

Oh! There's pleasure in the meetings
And the glad exchange of greetings,
When you join the crowd who "cut," the "Federal Shoe."

For get your daily "Operations,"
And the latest "Cut" quotations,
Let your "Cutting" thoughts now mingle with the past.

While the "Nigger-heads" are trembling,
Where the wavelets are "Assembling,"
As the Ocean "Pounds up" daily to the "Last."

The loud "Taps" give invitation,
Of that "Tip-Tap" inspiration,
That some good things the "Inner-soul" would like to woo.

Oh! there's pleasure in the treasure,
Of the "Quarters" lease can measure,
When you join the crowd who "stitch" the "Federal Shoe."

When the Chutes, perchance you're roughing, Far removed from thoughts, of "Bumping,"
And your dreams are neither "Standards" nor "Measures."

While your rival is still swimming,
You may do a stroke at "Tripping,"
With some little "Singer" who so often "Stays."

"Tongue" or "Pen" can't tell the feeling,
Of delight that comes a stealing,
When thro' Love's Journey, you may "Skip" for two.

"Tho' glad memories in "Short-Time-Slips," Never a stop made on the line "Spills,"
When you join the crowd, who "Make" the "Federal Shoe."

When in Wonderland you're stinking,
Where the crowd is ever "Lining,"
And the honest man "Tubs" elbows with the crook.

Put a "Staple" on your pocket,
"Lace" it up, if you can't lock it,
Else they'll "String" you, and your "Finish" is the "Hook."

See the happy laughing faces,
Never a thought about "Short-cases,"
Seeking pleasure, where the rippling water's blue.

"Tis the "Climax" of all pleasure,
And a memory all must treasure,
When you join the crowd, who "Pack" the "Federal Shoe."

When the evening shadows "Closing,"
And the fair ones are proposing,
And you're "Sorting" souvenirs of Crescent beach.

Your best "Closer-on" but lighter,
Off you hugged your wallet tighter,
But at "tag" who could resist that little peach.

Take a "Thy" before skidding,
There's a pleasure in canoodling,
Should your Merry Widow, wear a "Kangaroo."

"Ring-in at the Dock," 'tis jolly,
You may "Check" aboard the trolley,
When you join the crowd, who "Wear" the "Federal Shoe."

THE LATE IRA D. SANKEY.

IRA D. SANKEY
Well Known Evangelist
is Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Ira D. Sankey, known as an evangelist throughout the Christian world, died Thursday night at his home in Brooklyn, but the news of his passing did not become generally known until yesterday. Mr. Sankey was 68 years old and for the last five years he had been blind and suffered from a complication of diseases brought on by overwork. Almost to the very last he worked at hymn writing, the gift which had brought him fame in every corner of the earth. His tours

throughout this country and Europe with Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, brought him into wide prominence. Sankey, it might be said, wrote the Gospel hymns of the world. He received a large income from his publishers and had acquired a considerable estate. Among Mr. Sankey's most familiar compositions are: "The Ninety and Nine" and "When the Saints Have Rolled Away."

His songs are said to have a circulation of more than fifty million copies. In 1902 his physical condition compelled him to give up most of his evangelistic engagements, although he continued for some time to do editorial work in compiling a new series of hymn books. Then came failing eyesight, which speedily developed into total blindness. With the blindness came also a nervous breakdown. He is survived by a widow, Fannie V. Sankey, his two sons, Irlan Sankey and Edward Sankey, and two grandchildren.

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractive, written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called beauty creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Itches and all eruptions of the skin, as follows, and has invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless preparation which can be filled at any Drug Store. Carefully dry the face with a soft towel, and then apply the mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning any way, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment, you will soon have a clear and brilliant complexion."

FOUND GUILTY

Woman Who Threatened Another Got Suspended Sentence

"Both of you are using the woman's weapon—your tongues," said Judge Pickman in police court this morning to the complainant and defendant in a case of threatening.

The case was that of Alice Spalding, an elderly woman, who was charged with threatening to do bodily harm to Margaret Hennessey.

Both women reside at 12 North street and have not been on the best of terms for some time. One accuses the other of doing certain things and then there is a battle of words that can be heard several blocks away.

"It was just like this," said the Hennessey woman: "We live opposite each other at 12 North street and she insists upon lying about me. Yesterday she asked me to come into her house and I says, 'What should I go into your house for?' and then she says 'I want to see you.' I might have gone in but what did I see behind her back but an axe. When she saw that I saw what she had in her hand she dropped the axe and I started to run. I looks the door of my house, but getting frightened I start to go to Mrs. Spalding who lives down stairs. It was then that Mrs. Spalding, with a knife in her hand, up and at me, but I dodged her. She then shouted 'I am a Spaniard and would put this through your heart,' and she would, Your Honor, but for the fact that I got away from her. I am afraid of her for I know she would like to cut my heart out."

Mrs. Spalding was called and said: "I never had an axe in my house any more than you have one, Your Honor." She acknowledged that she had a knife, saying that one day when she went down to her cellar an Armenian jumped out of a closet and tried to stab her, he dropped the knife and since then she has kept it for protection.

Judge Pickman was of the opinion that it was one of the women's tongues that was doing the mischief. He was unwilling to indulge in and said that both were using the woman's weapon—the tongue.

He tried to conciliate the women and had both standing in front of the bench and giving them some good advice when the Hennessey woman said: "Look at her (she Spalding woman) she would like to jump at me, Your Honor."

Mrs. Spalding was found guilty and placed in the hands of the probation officer for a period of six months.

SENT TO JAIL.

Thomas Welch tried to "kill" a pair of trousers from a counter in Morris Schulman's second-hand clothing store at 321 Middlesex street, last night, but the eagle eye of Morris was on every article of goods in the store and Welch figured without his best. When Welch was caught in the act he dropped the pants and started to run through Middlesex street, but Patrolman Gilbert Sheridan seeing the fleeing man, entered the race himself and though Welch had a good handicap on him he succeeded in catching his man after a run of about a couple of hundred yards.

Welch never entered that store for the purpose of stealing the trousers, he said, but in some unaccountable manner he happened to knock them from the counter and then the man accused him of trying to steal them.

"Three months in jail," said Judge Pickman.

THE DRUNKS.

Frank Maynard and Patrick C. Cullen, second offenders, were taxed the usual $6. There were four first offenders, who escaped with $2 fines.

"John H. Dunlavy" called Assistant Clerk Trull.

"Not guilty," shouted Dunlavy before the clerk could read the complaint. When the complaint of drunkenness had been read he again said not guilty, and said that the arresting officer, Patrolman Molony, had a grudge in for him. The court did not believe this, however. It was Dunlavy's fourth offense within a year and as he was under a suspended sentence of three months in jail, the suspension was revoked, and he was ordered to jail.

Catherine F. Grimshaw, a slight and pale faced girl, whose hands trembled like a leaf as a result of over-indulgence in liquor, was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint of drunkenness. Judge Pickman imposed a fine of $2, but later withdrew the fine and sentenced her to ten days in jail, he evidently feeling that a little respite from temptations would do her good.

Her husband, William H. Grimshaw, was also in for drunkenness. It was his third offense within a year and he was sentenced to three months in jail.

Patrick B. Donohoe, charged with being drunk, was held under $200 bonds for his appearance before the court Monday morning for sentence. Patrolman Conway arrested Donohoe yesterday afternoon. He informed the court that Donohoe was drunk when he found him asleep on some steps.

ACCUSES WIFE

William Hepner Seeks a Separation

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A sequel to the advertisement in which William Hepner, the wig-maker, made known that he was no longer responsible for the debts of his wife, formerly Frances Lillian Hutkoff, came yesterday in the announcement that Hepner has already brought an action for legal separation. "Cruel and inhuman treatment" is the allegation in the complaint.

In an action brought through his attorney, Herman L. Roth, Hepner alleges that his wife had been in the habit of using violent language in the presence of their children, that she had treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner, etc., etc. One specific charge is that on July 16 of this year, she "entered the defendant's place of business, created a disturbance, collected a crowd and used language too offensive to be herein set forth."

When seen yesterday afternoon at the summer home of her mother, Mrs. Hutkoff, No. 1 Stratton avenue, Arverne, Mrs. Hepner refused to discuss her matrimonial difficulties at any length.

Mrs. Hirschfeld, a sister of Mrs. Hepner, was more communicative.

"Our side of the story sounds very different from that told by Billy Hepner," said she. "Why, his marriage with my sister has literally made him in a business way, and it is her money that he has been spending so lavishly with his actress friends."

I have known Billy Hepner for a long time, and when he got his divorce from Louise Willis, and afterward became engaged to my sister, we all thought he was in the right.

"It was not until his engagement to my sister had been announced that I knew of his first marriage, and of the long working wife he separated from in order to marry Miss Willis. My sister is long-suffering, but now things have come to a crisis."

Hepner's attorney, Roth, said yesterday that Mrs. Hepner's unmanageable temper and her manner of treating her husband made it impossible for them to live together.

"We are forced to put that notice in the paper," said Mr. Roth. "For, although Mr. Hepner is a well-to-do business man, he could not stand the strain that his wife was making on his purse. We hope to arrange the matter out of court, and in that case Mrs. Hepner will have the custody of the children for the time being. She is the proper person to bring them up."

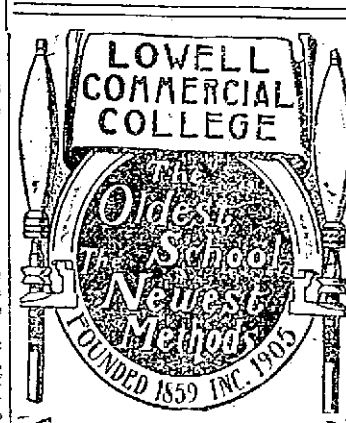

Judge Goldfinge landed the charges contained in the complaint as absurd.

The two little Hepner daughters, Mabel and Bessie, are with Mrs. Hepner at her mother's home.

Three Insurance Cases to Be Tried at Next Term

Falling Blind Leads to Suit Against Geo. Husson the Syrian Real Estate Owner—Other Local Cases For Fall Term

3. Joseph O'Connor, the well known attorney has three interesting insurance cases coming up at the next term of the superior court. In the first John B. Kelly, an administrator of the estate of the late Margaret Kelly, formerly of Lawrence street, sues the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York for $500 on a policy for that amount made payable to her son. The insurance company claims that the policy was obtained through alleged false misrepresentation. In the second case John B. Kelly sues the same company for $100 to recover on a policy made payable to him. A similar defense will be offered in this case. The third insurance case is that of Margaret Starr vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance company in which the plaintiff sued to recover $50, the amount of a policy on her mother's life, which the company has refused to pay on the ground that false representations were made in obtaining the policy.

SHUTTLE CO. SUE.
Lawyer O'Connor also has brought suit against the U. S. Bobbin and Shuttle company in behalf of Edmund Santos, a former employee of the company, for injuries to the head and body received by a piece of wood flying from a machine. The ad damnum in this case is $500.

GEORGE HUSSON SUE.
Suit has been brought by Lawyer O'Connor against George Husson, the well known Syrian real estate owner in behalf of a boy named William Dalton who while passing a building owned by Husson at the corner of Suffolk and Adams streets was struck on the head, receiving a fractured skull. He sues for $500.

BOSTON & NORTHERN SUE.
The Boston & Northern is sued for $500 by Lawyer O'Connor in behalf of Patrick Shea, a driver for the Nelson Morris company whose wagon was struck by an electric car in Middlesex street not long ago throwing him into the street and inflicting serious injuries.

THE GANNON CASE.
Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan have retained by the estate of the late Mary J. Gannon, who was killed by an electric car in Gannum street last Saturday and in all probability will bring suit after the hearing on the manslaughter case, August 25. Messrs. Hogan

ACCIDENT DAY

Boy Killed and Singer Fell Over Footlights

HAVERHILL, Aug. 15.—One boy killed by a car, a stage favorite's fall over the footlights of an outdoor theatre, coupled with the rescue of a boy from drowning and the injury of a trainman in the local freight yard, made up a chapter of accidents here today.

Six-year-old Lester Elms had his life crushed out beneath the truck of a Boston & Northern car, directly in front of the city stables on River street.

He had left the home of his parents at 218 River street and started to cross the street behind an incoming Lawrence car. This was followed by a Pines car, and in an instant the lad was beneath the feeder, the body finally bringing up on the trucks.

Miss Esther Wallace, a dramatic soprano, who has been taking part in the production of "A Jolly Fellow" at the Pines Amusement park, lost her balance yesterday afternoon and plunged over the footlights. In her descent of 7 feet or more she struck the piano and finally landed among the members of the orchestra. She received a wrenched ankle and internal injuries.

In the Bradford district, 10-year-old John McCue of 10 Lafayette street was playing on a coal scow at the wharf of the Haverhill Box Board Co., when it was struck by a tug and the boy was knocked into the river. A riverman, whose name could not be learned, plunged overboard and rescued the boy.

In the Boston & Maine freight yard this afternoon Michael Lynch, a yard conductor, was knocked down by a box car. One of the wheels crushed three toes and injured his ankle so seriously that at the Hale hospital it was said last night that the foot may have to be amputated.

TO ENDORSE BRYAN

Resolutions Introduced at the I. T. U. Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—A resolution that the International Typographical union endorse the democratic platform and candidates presented at the 5th annual convention of the union in this city late yesterday, threw the convention into a keen and spirited debate in which members of several parties took prominent part for and against the resolution. The resolution was finally adopted by request of the president, who suggested it would be preferable to having the resolution referred, as it surely would be, and put the union on record as having "thrown down Bryan."

A declaration of political principles which contained no reference to parties or candidates was adopted. A proposition that the International Typographical union sever its connection with the American Federation of Labor and the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress was warmly discussed and defeated.

The declaration of political principles recommended to the membership that they carefully study political parties and measures to vote as to best protect their interests as workmen and to prevent their being used as political party appendages.

Delegate Compton of San Francisco presented the resolution seeking the severing of ties with the A. F. of L. and Canadian congress. The committee reported unfavorably. Mr. Compton started the political talk by declaring he believed the A. F. of L. to be a political organization today. Thomas N. Nolan of Boston, declared President Gompers attended the two great political conventions to ask for assurance of support of laws against injunctions as desired by organized labor, and he had a right to make his own personal choice of parties with which to affiliate himself.

The report of the committee, unfavorable to the resolutions was then adopted.

Resolutions by Delegate Henry West of Birmingham, Ala., then came up for discussion, being as follows:

"Whereas political action is being used by all labor organizations; and

"Whereas Samuel Gompers, the Napoleon of organized labor, a life-time republican has lost faith in his old party and is now supporting the democratic ticket in the hope of securing labor needed reforms; and

"Whereas, through Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, William Jennings Bryan and others who are known to be friends of trade unions and the masses of the people, we have secured promise of fair legislation and fair execution of law; be it therefore

"Resolved, that the I. T. U., in its 5th annual session, do endorse the national democratic platform, adopted at the Denver convention and urge all the trade unionists to use every honorable means to secure the election of the democratic nominees."

Immediately a vigorous and determined argument started.

President Lynch ruled the resolution could be discussed, but no appeal was taken and the chair sustained.

Victor Berger of Milwaukee, a socialist, asked the difference between the republican and democratic parties, declaring "One was as bad as the other."

Delegate Estey of Paterson, N. J., eulogized Gompers, and then made a plea for the independence party which he thought was best. Laughter greeted his endeavors.

It was suggested Mr. West withdraw his resolution. President Lynch declared:

"I believe the resolution should be carried; around an extremely red nose; or are you tortured with a red nose? If so, you are the most foolish to stand it long; it is the simplest and easiest thing in the world to get rid of. No matter what might have been the cause, the following harmless and inexpensive treatment will positively remove all traces of your embarrassment in from two to four weeks.

withdrawn. I don't believe the author or anyone else wanted the unfavorable report of the committee adopted as it undoubtedly would be if the matter was pressed and then have the press of the country declare as they undoubtedly would that this convention turned down Bryan."

Mr. West withdrew the resolutions. A proposition for union headquarters building at Indianapolis was referred to the executive committee.

During the morning session business was suspended while Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot spoke on the necessity of the conservation of the nation's natural resources.

ANNA S. PECK

REACHED ALTITUDE OF 25,000 FEET IN MOUNTAIN.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 15.—Miss Anna S. Peck, of Providence, R. I., the mountain climber, signalled at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon her arrival at an altitude of 25,000 feet on Mount Huascaran, the summit of which is covered with perpetual snow. The energy displayed by Miss Peck in scaling this mountain has brought forth expressions of astonishment from the natives here. She is accompanied by two trained Alpine climbers.

Miss Peck left New York two months ago to make another attempt to reach the summit of Mount Huascaran, which she believed to be the highest peak in the western hemisphere. On an earlier trial she was compelled to give up the attempt after reaching a height of 17,500 feet owing to the cowardice of her guides. By reaching an altitude of 25,000 feet Miss Peck has ascended higher than man or woman in the world. The record was held by W. W. Graham, who reached a height of 23,800 feet in the Himalayas. Miss Peck began her mountain climbing in 1905, when she scaled the Matter Horn in Bolivia, reaching a height of 20,500 feet.

Huascaran towers above a notable group of volcanic summits in the south of Peru and to the westward of the great plateau in which Lake Titicaca lies.

INSURANCE MEN

HELD AN IDEAL OUTING AND PLAYED BALL.

With modesty becoming so great a poet, the author of the following classic requests, in words written with sceptic ink and golden pen, not to divulge his name. He fears that once in the limelight he would be deluged with letters from other great authors and magazine people. He proffers the information that he has been writing poetry since he was a little boy and his first effort, he says, delighted his parents, teachers and friends, especially because of its Shakespearean contour and power of expression.

The poem is so long we shall have to do violence to his feelings by giving merely a few sample stanzas.

NO. 1.
The Prudential Men's outing held on Thursday
Was the time of their lives, they one and all say.
They took the car from Lawrence, from there to Welch's pond,
Had lots to eat and drink of things which all were fond.

NO. 2.
When they struck the pond they played a game of ball;
Out of Lawrence, the opposing team, they took a mighty fall.
Joe Herriock, who played centre, had a basket to catch,
But a hole was in the basket much to little Joe's surprise.

NO. 3.
Tom Trainor, who was umpire, couldn't see it Johnnie's way.
Then Bill he up and told him he'd umpire no more that day.
Joe McCain then took the job, he was looking spic and span.
He lasted three whole innings, the bombardment then began.

NO. 4.
Then all adjourned to the hotel and had a corking dinner.
Jack Fay ate everything in sight, if he didn't I'm a sinner.
At five o'clock all started home after a good day's fun.
Assistant Cassidy wore a smile his Lowell boys had won.

JAMES K. HARDIE
WILL TRY TO AMALGAMATE TRADES UNIONISTS.

GLASGOW, Aug. 15.—James K. Hardie, socialist member of the house of commons left here today on the steamer Hesperian for Canada and the United States. Mr. Hardie will try to amalgamate the American and Canadian trade unionists and socialists into one political party like the British labor party.

DECEIVE OFFICER

Twins Foil Men Who Served Papers

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Count Ignatz and Count Carlos Gomboss are twins. Their friends at the Waldorf, which they much frequent, say the Gomboss look as much alike as two Hungarian hussars in uniform.

Miss Loretta Phenny has begun suit in the supreme court against Count Ignatz for $50,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. Her counsel, Louis T. Schwartz, gave the papers in the case to J. W. Starr, a process server, and Starr declares he sought Ignatz for a fortnight in vain. Yesterday Mr. Schwartz, his clerk, Keze Taffe and Starr went to the Waldorf cafe. There twirling his mustache and talking to friends, stood Count Ignatz. A little distance from him was Count Carlos, twirling his mustache and talking to friends.

As Starr, papers in hand, hurried toward Ignatz Gomboss, the count grasped the situation instantly.

"Do not bother me," he said haughtily, waving Starr away. "I am Count Carlos Gomboss. My brother, Count Ignatz, whom you seek, probably, is over there."

Ignatz strolled from the cafe; Starr hurried over to Count Carlos, who grasped the situation too.

"Yes," said he, readily accepting the papers. "I am Count Ignatz Gomboss. Oh, it is this young lady's suit, is it?"

To give his twin brother a look at the papers, Count Carlos leisurely looked over the papers, then throwing them on the floor, rushed from the cafe and ran at top speed east on Thirty-fourth street. Starr overtook Carlos at Madison avenue.

The brothers' ruse was then disclosed. Papers were later served on both to prevent any escape.

GLIDDEN LANDS

He Covered 24 Miles in His Balloon

EAST CHARLEMONT, Aug. 15.—Charles J. Glidden of Lowell, accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Clayton of Boston, landed in this town at a spot about one and one-half miles from Shelburne Falls at 7 o'clock last night. The landing was made at a distance of 24 miles, air line, from North Adams, where the ascent was made at 5:40 o'clock. The highest altitude reached was 4400 feet, where varying currents were found which caused the balloon to spin like a top, an unusual experience.

Both Mr. Glidden and Mrs. Clayton expressed themselves as delighted with the trip. Mrs. Clayton expressed no fear throughout the journey and in fact made the landing herself, having full control of the balloon and effecting a landing as easily as stepping from a carriage.

BAY STATE MEN

Shot Well in the Inter-club Match

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 15.—The sharpshooters of the 6th regt., M. V. M., took their rank yesterday afternoon in the National Rifle association interclub match for the rifle club championship of the United States. They scored 215, seven points behind the 4th New Jersey, which won at 223, and two behind the National Capital rifle and revolver association. The 6th regt. had to have 220, and second money, had it not been for the error of a U. S. army range officer.

Private Sweeney was given a miss, but it was afterward discovered that it was a bullseye. The hole was under a ring. High scoring for the 6th was done by Captain S. W. Wise, who made 45 out of the possible 50 at 200 yards. Private Sweeney made 33, Lieut. J. E. Burns 42, Sgt. Maj. J. H. Keough 44 and Private J. D. Union 44.

Sgt. Major Keough won third and Capt. Wise fifth honors in the life members' match for the championship of the National rifle association. The former scored 65, which was beaten only by Dr. W. K. Hudson of New York, the winner this year, as last who yesterday scored 67 out of 70 at 200 yards, exceptional marksmanship.

The only possible 600 yards was by Capt. Casey of Delaware, who got second place over Keough on a tie score, but a better one at the longer range. Capt. Wise scored 63. The leading five scores were:

200	400
Hudson, New York.....	34 63
Casey, Delaware.....	29 65
Keough, Mass.....	32 65
Towers, New Jersey.....	33 65
Wise, Mass.....	30 65

The championship company team match, in which Massachusetts did not compete, went to the U. S. marine corps, whose teams in the field of 24 took the first three places by scores of 552, 446 and 422.

The state secretary's match went to Capt. McBride of Indiana, who scored 47; Maj. Fort of Maryland was second at 42.

THE MOHAIR CLUB

Held the Annual Ladies Night

The ladies had full sway at the Mohair club house last night, the occasion being the annual ladies' night. The pretty little club house was very attractively decorated for the season and the wives and friends of the members were treated in a royal manner.

Col. A. M. Chadwick acted as master of ceremonies and his clever witticisms were greatly enjoyed. The program carried out was as follows:

Flora, song by Miss Grace Smith; songs and duets by Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Master Stanley Marshall, Messrs. David Hird, Hampden, Hyde, H. Foxon, John MacNamara, Alex. Williams and Mrs. John MacNamara, mandolin solo, Mr. John Robertson.

Mr. Leonard Hartley spoke and thanked the ladies for the kind support they had always given the club in the past, and attributed the club's success in no small part to their efforts.

Refreshments were served, after which the Mohair's Glen club entertained with selections and the "Glen" should add acquaintance to the

The success of the affair was due to the following committee: Chairman Walter H. Holden, Gilbert Hunt, Chas. Jenkins, James Hightwaite, Alex. Williams and President Walter Booth.

EASTERN PAIR

TO PLAY FOR THE TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The eastern champion pair, Boals C. Wright of Boston and Raymond D. Little of New York, yesterday earned the right to challenge Hackett and Alexander, the national lawn tennis champions, and will play the latter pair for the national doubles honor in the tournament at Newport, R. I., beginning Aug. 18.

Wright and Little acquired the right to challenge Hackett and Alexander by repeating their victory of Thursday on the grass courts of the Croquet Athletic club at Bay Ridge, when they won from the southern champions, the easterners yesterday defeating the western champions, Nat Emerson of Cincinnati, and Louis H. Waidner of Chicago, in the second round of the national lawn tennis doubles preliminary.

Wright and Little won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2. The westerners, however, proved more formidable opponents than the southerners Thursday. Waidner, indeed, was in more than his usual good form. Emerson's play was the weak point, although neither westerner showed an ability to handle the service of the opposing side.

Wright's service being particularly deadly, with all that the easterners were forced to play their best game throughout the match.

The first set was a doubt until the last game, Wright and Little taking it after it had gone to deuce, the exhibition being one of the most exciting ever seen on eastern courts.

The second set was a continuation of the first, Wright and Little taking it after it had gone to deuce, the exhibition being one of the most exciting ever seen on eastern courts.

With the score 30-love against them, they rallied and made it 30-15. The westerners took the next point but lost the next three and the game. At this stage of the match both teams were at their highest game, Wright and Little, in particular, scoring on overhead "smashes."

The next game went to Wright and Little, and the sixth to the westerners, after it had gone to deuce. The seventh, after once deuce game, was taken by the westerners. The ninth and tenth went to the easterners, giving the set, 6-4.

Shortly after the beginning of the third set, the strain began to show on the westerners, and Wright and Little, playing as fast tennis as in the early part of the match, won 6-3, giving them the match in three straight sets.

MATTY BALDWIN

KNOCKED OUT MCGARRY IN THE FIFTH.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Matty Baldwin of Boston knocked out Ambly McGarry in the fifth round of their fight at the Fairmount A. C., last night. Baldwin outclassed McGarry throughout the fight, but the Bronxman took the Bostonian's punches as if they were mere taps until the fifth round.

Then Matty began to fight harder, and after about a minute of fierce milling he jammed a hard right to the jaw, followed it almost immediately with a left to the chin, and as McGarry staggered Baldwin sent a left crashing into Ambly's stomach. The New Yorker sank to the floor and was counted out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Harry Scroggs of Baltimore defeated Johnny Dohan in their bout at Brown's Rockaway beach club last night. Scroggs was the aggressor throughout the fight, and in the last two rounds had the New Yorker on the ropes.

FREDDIE WELCH WON.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 15.—Freddie Welch, the English lightweight champion, was awarded the decision over Johnny Dohan of San Francisco at the end of 25 rounds in the Jeffries A. C. at Vernon last night. The fight afforded the greatest exhibition of gameness ever seen in a local ring. Murphy reeling through 15 rounds in a groggy condition under a rain of blows that cut his lips and nose to ribbons and closed both eyes.

THEATRE VOYONS

"Tales the Searchlight Told." Illustrating some of the many interesting things to be seen at the Theatre Voyons, is without exception the best picture of the great resort ever made. Not only is the daylight view complete, but the beautiful night illumination is shown. A wonderful feat of photography. Comedy and interest are added by the novel situations that the searchlight uncovers in its passage along the beach.

Monday, the showing of the pictures of the great international Grand Prix automobile race in France will be commenced. The pictures are the official and only ones taken of this great test, and show clearly many of the most interesting features from its start to the finish. This race is the greatest and most important in the world and the course is so dangerous that exciting incidents are many. One of the noteworthy thrills in the picture is the accident in which two of the big racers turned turtle and killed their drivers.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Tonight, at the move of the amusement seekers of Lowell and vicinity, the Adam Good company will present the stirring story of the Golden West, "A Texas Ranger," one of the most satisfying plays on the plains that has ever been staged. Those who read or have seen "The Virginian," will find in "A Texas Ranger" many kindred qualities, and it is only as good a play. There is a fund of real truth in it, the author, being a westerner himself, has adhered strictly to the line of realism and the people in the play are real types. There are little touches of nature here and there, in the story that bring the moisture to the eyes, set so close are pathos and mirth intermingled by the deft hand of the dramatist, the story and the smile follow the story in quick succession. Miss Pingree and the entire company of players will appear in the cast, and the management has provided an elaborate equipment of special settings. As usual some excellent specialties will be offered between acts. Commencing Thursday matinee of this week, the romantic story of "The Sons of Tennessee," will be offered. This play is the work of Lee Arthur, author of "Warfield's great success, "The Auctioneer," and was one of the big dramatic successes of last season on tour. The production at Lakeview this week will be the first time the play has been offered at popular prices.

FLAGRANT MISMANAGEMENT BY POLICE.

The yeggmen who murdered two officers in Methuen are still at large, and there seems to be no clue whatever to connect anybody known to the police with the crime.

That is the usual result when a tragedy of this kind occurs in a small town. We had a good example of that in the Arlington murder case in which Miss Mullins was the victim.

The chief of police did nothing himself, and he failed to call in the police of the neighboring cities. He had even consented to have the dead girl's belongings, including a locked trunk, shipped to her Canadian home without examination by the police for anything that would throw light on the mystery.

In such cases the state police should step in and take full charge of the case before it is too late to catch the culprits with the evidence of their crime.

There is some excuse, it is true, for the slow action of the Methuen police when two of their number were murdered. The chief is a decrepit old man and cannot be expected to do active work.

The case, so far as prompt action for the detection of the criminals is concerned, was woefully mismanaged, and it is doubtful if ever any trace of the murderers will be found. They can go on committing fresh crimes with increased confidence of security, since they have made good their escape after killing two police officers. Hereafter we may expect that the yeggs will lay plans to dispose of police officers in the same way, when as in the Methuen case these are found in lonely places.

The city of Boston did not have the success that might be expected of her well organized force in meeting the onslaught of the yeggmen. Had the gang been captured in that city there would probably have been no murder at Methuen.

LAWSON'S SCHEME TO GET MONEY.

After a great deal of blow and bluster against the "system" Thomas W. Lawson has now a scheme to put against the "system" that seems to be fully as bad as anything fathered by the "system."

According to the statement of Mr. Lawson's advertisements he has a monster corporation with a billion dollars authorized capital to put up against the systems of Rockefeller, Rogers and Morgan in the name of the Bay State Gas company. This is a scheme by which Lawson may expect to get the people's money. He has often advised the people to invest in stocks that collapsed utterly soon after his advice was given.

Lawson is a man whose advice is often very deceptive. It would not be safe to take his advice, nor would it be safe always to do the very opposite of what he advises.

Let Lawson dispose of his Bay State gas stock elsewhere. Time will soon demonstrate just what this "assault" on the system amounts to, whether it is sincere or only a bluff like many of the other schemes emanating from Lawson.

WARNING TO OTHER CITIES.

The shooting of an officer in Lynn yesterday morning with the attempt to blow open the safe at the railroad station, shows that the desperadoes are not all scared off as yet. They appear to be emboldened by the success with which some escape arrest for the greatest crimes on the calendar.

This fresh outbreak should serve as a warning to other cities to be prepared for such visitors.

The number of police, it seems, should be increased in certain parts of this city while the guards upon banks, railroad stations and large stores should be more vigilant than ever; and they should take care that no band of yeggmen can put them out of business as a preliminary to a safe-blowing job.

Recently, it must be acknowledged that the Lowell police have done good work in catching criminals who make a specialty of burglary. It is to be hoped they will keep up the good record and see that the yeggmen cannot ply their nefarious business in Lowell and escape.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Now, my boy," said the prosperous sire, and by the way, this has local reference, "seeing that fortune has favored me, I feel it my duty to share my good luck with you. I am now in a position to allow you the education necessary for any of the professions that will carry you through. I do not want that you should drift with the tide, like me without a purpose in life, and I know that you have it in you to be something more than an ordinary knockabout. Name that which you were running riot in his boy's brain, would have in the line of a profession, and while he was wondering what the

and I will do the rest."

"Father!" The word that meant so much was quietly and almost softly whispered.

"Yes, my boy, what sayest thou?" said the prosperous sire.

"Would I have to study?" inquired the worthy son.

"Indeed, yes," said the father, "none must study and persevere in order to attain."

There was a pause. The son was looking wise and the loving and prosperous father could feel the tremor of the scientific thought that he believed knockabout. Name that which you were running riot in his boy's brain, would have in the line of a profession, and while he was wondering what the decision would be, what aim the mental marksman would make, a whisper, dull and low, broke the silence. "Father," said the whispering voice, "Yes, my son, what is it?" "I want—I want to be a hack driver."

One S. E. Kiser wrote this: Yes, they used to call me "Willie," but they soon got over that. Such a name sounds very silly if its bearer's leg and fat. Go your way, and go it blindly; vote for Bryan if you will. But I beg that you will kindly be disposed to call me Bill.

Lives of great men all remind us that the Willows are the boys. When we swiftly leave behind us; they produce but little noise. Let us, then, be up and doing, while the way is open still. But don't let that trouble's brewing if you fail to eat me Bill.

Please, good sir, cut out the "mister"; it's a title that I hate; Let me kiss your baby sister—I can do it while you wait; Say I'm not a statesman, blame me for any record if you will. Fling mud at me and defame me, but please always call me Bill.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THAW'S BANKRUPTCY CRITICIZ.

New York Correspondent: If from out a sorry mess of gush and mush and vapors and braggadocio over claims for services or supposed services in connection with the two Thaw murder trials, and with the defendant's recent move to be declared a bankrupt, it were possible to pick an opinion possessing a semblance of sanity and reasonableness, it would be the declaration by "Dan" O'Reilly, a one-time attorney in the mixup, that Harry Kendall Thaw has no legal right to go into bankruptcy. In the eyes of the law, it is explained, this man is a logically-adjusted lunatic—an insane person, formally committed to an asylum for the care of the crazy by a justice of the supreme court of New York state; and by that very commitment he was then and there shut out from administering his estate or his person, even. There is reason and common sense and "good law" in this view of the most recent turn in the uncanny case. If anybody has a valid money claim against this man, the proper—perhaps the only—way to get it adjusted and paid is to

THE LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS.

Men prefer darkness rather than light when their deeds are evil. Men and women, too, for that matter, prefer light rather than darkness when their deeds are good. The Sun is the journalistic light for the people of Lowell. Merchants should seek the light if they would be seen; in other words, if they want the best they must advertise in the columns of The Sun, which is read by all the people, and is universally conceded to be Lowell's brightest and greatest newspaper.

apply to the judge who committed him or to some court of equal authority for the appointment of a committee of his person and his estate. For the Pittsburgh court to entertain Thaw's personal application for a receiver and to act on it was obviously illegal, and any acts by such receiver could presumably be declared null and void on the ground that a legally adjudged lunatic cannot lawfully make application for a receiver. The manner in which about 99 persons out of every 100 who come into contact with Thaw or get in any way connected with his case, apparently regard him as strongly suggestive of opera buffa. They talk with him, quote his statements, do business with him and so on, just as they would with any man in a perfectly normal condition of mind—and yet the only thing that clothes Thaw with any measure of public importance or of public interest at the moment is the fact that he is a legally-declared lunatic confined in a "crazy-house." If this adjudication is sound and is to stand, then this lunatic ought to be treated as a lunatic, nothing more, nothing less. If he is sane; then in heaven's name let him be set loose and the disgusting farce be taken off the public stage!

WILD AND WOOLY BOSTON.

Concord Patriot: We are really becoming a little bit ashamed of old Boston. She is getting entirely too gay in her advanced years.

There was a man named Tracy out west some years ago who shot up a corner town, but he was eventually tracked and disposed of, but a man can go to Boston when he likes, kill as many policemen as he can lay eyes on and when he wants to leave, turn and walk out through a cemetery or something of the kind and that is all there is to it.

There used to be a saying about the empty moving westward and that may be true, but the life that used to be common on the frontier is moving eastward.

Some years ago along the Rockies every man carried a gun, and when occasion called, fingered it carefully. In the west now there is peace; civilization langes along the foothills, culture and refinement as compared with Boston are found there.

We will have to do something for the old town. We cannot afford to see her lose her reputation in this way.

TEMPTING ACCIDENT.

New Bedford Standard: The number of railroad accidents in this country in a year is indeed appalling; and here is a sample of the way in which many of them come about. At Revere beach, last Sunday, after a train had pulled out, two men ran for the smoking car. One of them reached it safely. The other slipped and fell underneath the train, to be crushed to death. One careless man caused the penalty of his carelessness; the other paid. He will add one more to the number which will be reported at the close of this year.

WELL DESERVED

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Lowell People

One kidney remedy never fails. Lowell people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Lowell testimony proves it always reliable.

Mrs. John B. Porter, of 24 Broadway, says: "The wonderful cure of Doan's Kidney Pills was proven to me several years ago and I gave a statement recommending them through our local papers. I can speak in stronger terms of praise for this remedy than I could then. When I first used Doan's Kidney Pills I was laid up and had been for some time with my back and inflammation of the bladder. I was told by physicians that I was going into consumption. I had a cough, but not of long standing and I knew my lungs were not affected. I felt better while I was using medicine but as soon as I stopped I became as bad as ever. I knew my kidneys were disordered and I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ellingwood & Co. drug store. They soon banished the pain in my back and corrected the other difficulties arising from the kidneys. Since then my daughter has used this remedy and it has brought her an effective relief from the backache which was causing her much suffering. There is nothing to equal them as a kidney remedy and I have recommended them to scores of people."

and which will furnish material for many horror-stricken condemnations of the carelessness and the greed of the railroads and their indifference to human life. Necessity does not exist for excusing most of the shortcomings of railroad operation. Nevertheless, a large share of the accidents, serious and trivial, are due to such careless-ness as was exhibited by the man who met his death at Revere. Examples can be seen, sometimes by the score, at almost any railway station in the United States on almost any day. When people who ride on the trains are careful not to expose themselves unnecessarily to danger, the number of accidents will materially diminish.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A committee meeting in connection with the proposed exhibition of old Chinese porcelain under the auspices of North China branch of the Royal Asiatic society was held on the 2d instant at the residence of Mr. F. E. Wilkinson, H. B. M. vice consul.

Mr. F. E. Wilkinson, in the absence of Mr. C. D. Liddell, took the chair, and the following members of the committee were present: Dr. Cox, Dr. Stanley, Faotal Hoo Eik Mui, Mrs. Ayscough, Dr. J. C. Ferguson (honorary treasurer), and Mr. A. W. Bahr (honorary secretary).

It was resolved to hold the exhibition in or about the second week in November, 1908. A special feature was the decision to issue a descriptive catalogue, profusely illustrated, after the exhibition, which will embody the history of the ceramic art in China, and also a detailed catalogue of all the pieces exhibited. The exhibition seems to be meeting with much popularity, and exhibits are already promised from high Chinese official sources; in fact, it promises to be a unique exposition.

Owning hundreds of acres near Ruston and fertile lands in the valley of the Washington river, lives Mrs. Kate O'Brien, Oklahoma's most successful woman farmer. Mrs. O'Brien manages her farm as actively as if she were a man. She raises corn, cotton, fruit, berries, and has a hog ranch, a goose ranch and many horses, mules and cattle. There is not a finer fruit farm in the state than Mrs. O'Brien's.

She has 450 acres in apples, eighty acres in peaches, and is planting another peach orchard of eighty acres. A railroad running through her farm gives her a shipping station for her fruit. Mrs. O'Brien received $57.50 last year.

Mrs. O'Brien is a citizen of the Chickasaw nation by blood, being one-eighth Indian and seven-eighths Irish. She writes cleverly and shows a keen sense of humor in her reminiscences of pioneer days and in her telling of Indian legends and customs.

Left by the main party of the mountaineers' club and compelled to compete with her husband and two other men, Mrs. H. L. Thompson, of the party which ascended Mount Baker, made the ascent and descent in a half hour less than it took the principal party to make the ascent alone. Mrs. Thompson is the smallest woman to reach the summit of Mount Baker.

Mrs. Thompson, with her husband and H. H. Talley and Mary Senealing, left the permanent camp the night before the principal party started for the last climb for the summit to see the surrounding country, having received assurances from the chief of the party, they say, that the ascent would not be made until the next day. When they were gone the main party decided to leave the permanent camp, and the next day at noon the quartet, with the aid of field glasses, saw the larger group in the distance making their way up the mountainside. The four obtained the services of Joe Morewitz, a veteran guide, and followed the main party toward their destination. Mrs. Thompson, although weighing less than ninety pounds, easily kept up with her male companions and in fact evidenced even less fatigue than they did before the severe gale that blew around the summit, she ploded on, never once calling upon her companions or the guide for assistance.

No greater difficulties were encountered than those ordinarily met with in climbing Mount Baker. She would not admit to the men that she could endure less than they. In fact, her husband was heard to complain before she uttered a word about the hardships of the ascent.

The party was determined to make a move. Battering record than the party had had left them, and aided by the experience of their guide they ignored circuitous paths and took up the face of the mountain as far as was practicable. They made many short cuts, although the ascensions were fraught with extreme danger, and succeeded in reaching the summit in a shorter time than it took Asht Curtis and his charges to attain the crater.

On the return from the summit the party made the descent in double quick time and many were the rapid toboggan slides down steep declivities that Mrs. Thompson enjoyed. Both parties returned to the city together Monday morning.

KILLED BY GAS

Men Overcome While Hunting for Leak

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Two men were killed and nearly a dozen others were overcome in a manhole of the Empire City subway company yesterday afternoon, by gas from a leaking main.

The dead men, Michael Mahlon and Peter Collins, employees of the company, had gone on a hunt for a leak which for some time had filled the conduits with gas, and they had examined all the manholes from 23d street up to 56th before they descended into the fatal one at that point on 5th avenue.

They were in charge of Eugene Hallahan of the construction department, and when they failed to find an outlet after a reasonable time he started down to the manhole to find out the reason, but he was quickly driven back by the fumes and shouted for help.

The police reserves, firemen and ambulances were summoned and eventually a dozen or more persons, including workmen, policemen and firemen, arrived to rescue the two men. But all were unavailing. They had been in his turn was overcome and soon had to be drawn back by the rope in which he was attached.

Few of these overcome by the fumes were revived on the spot, but the majority had to be taken to a hospital. The bodies of the two men were recovered after employees of the gas company appeared and the gas at that point was shut off.

STATE PRISON

Horrigan Gets Four to Six Years

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Judge Crosby in the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon sentenced John V. Horrigan, a South End young man, to state prison for a term of not more than six or less than four years on a charge of robbery.

With Lawrence O'Neil, whose case had not been reached until next month, Horrigan was indicted on two counts of robbery. June 8, it is alleged, they held up a companion named James Brennan in the rear of 111 Hemenway street and stole $8 from him. Shortly after the job at the Back Bay Horrigan went to South Boston with O'Neil, where, it is alleged, they held up Philip Thomas, a junk dealer.

Horrigan pleaded guilty yesterday and Special Officer Murphy of the Back Bay division gave him a very hard name, testifying that he always carried a revolver, and that only a few months ago he was released from the reformatory after serving an indeterminate sentence for shooting at his brother.

Thomas, alias "Moose" Chambers, of South Boston, was convicted of breaking and entering. The lad is but 18 years old, and Judge Crosby talked to him in a fatherly way. Chambers has kept company, the police testified, with a bad set, his gang being known as the "Forty Thieves of South Boston."

His honor sentenced him to Concord. The grand jury at its September term will consider a robbery charge in which Nuggy is one of the principals. Everett Goodrich, aged 22, was placed on probation on a charge of stealing $1300. It was testified that he had made full restitution and was ready to lead an honest life hereafter.

John Declin of Roxbury was sentenced to the reformatory yesterday by Judge Crosby for an indefinite term. Young Declin was arrested for larceny last winter and was placed on probation. The probation officials surrendered him yesterday because he had failed to keep the terms on which he was allowed to go. The police say he has been associated with some of the worst boys in Roxbury, and was arrested in charge of robbery, but the grand jury found "no bill."

500 ARMED MEN

Searching for the Bandits on the Lowell Road

METHUEN, Mass., Aug. 15.—A man hunt, in which it is planned to muster some 500 citizens, is scheduled to take place this afternoon. The posse have been called to assemble at two o'clock at Marsh Corner. It is planned to have twelve distinct squads, all armed, who will scour the woodland and bogs in the tract of woods two miles square and in the immediate vicinity of the scene of the shooting of Officers McDermott and Emerson Saturday night or last Sunday morning.

It is not definitely known whether the bandits, who are supposed to have done the shooting, are hiding in that tract or not, and the plan is to make sure that they have either escaped or capture them, should they be in hiding.

The militia will not be called out but a dozen men have already been secured to act as lieutenants of the different squads. The details will be sent through the woods in different directions, with the scene of Sunday's crime as an objective point.

The mills close down at noontime and it is expected that quite a quota of men will come from them.

YEGGS IN CHELMSFORD

Fred McEnany Knocked Down and RobbedYeggs Visited Fred Salmon's Hen Houses But Were Frightened Away by Two Shots From His Revolver

The yeggs have got to North Chelmsford and that village is in a state of alarm over their arrival.

Last night about 10 o'clock Mr. Fred McEnany claims to have been knocked senseless and robbed of $5 by an unknown highwayman and at 2 o'clock this morning the yeggs attempted to get into the hen-houses of Fred Salmon in the village and the latter hearing them fired two shots from his bedroom window which had the effect of frightening them away.

Mr. McEnany left the barber shop shortly after 10 o'clock to go home, and to get to his destination took a short cut through an alley which runs from Highland avenue to Church street, one end being at the home of Ex-Secretary Durnigan in Highland avenue and the other in Church street just in the rear of the residence of Rev. Fr. Schofield, of St. John's church.

The alley is not lighted and is quite narrow, an ideal place for a hold-up. McEnany was proceeding through the alley totally unconscious of any impending danger when without warning he was struck on the head from behind and knocked senseless. He recovered consciousness in a short time and arose to find that his pockets had been rifled and $5 taken. He raised an alarm but no trace of the highwayman could be found.

About two o'clock this morning, Mr. Fred Salmon who conducts a small poultry farm, raising pedigreed birds heard a noise from the hen-houses in the rear of his house. As thieves had attempted to get in a short time before, he immediately got his revolver and went to the window. In the darkness he could see the dim figure of a man between the hen-houses and he immediately fired two shots in the direction of the marauder. The latter took to his heels.

At daylight Mr. Salmon made an investigation and found that the hen-houses had not been entered.

Mr. Salmon reports that hen thieves are becoming quite numerous in Chelmsford and the neighboring towns. The two acts of lawlessness have caused considerable excitement in North Chelmsford and the residents are looking to their guns.

In the foreground, a man wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, and a bowler hat is shown from the side, leaning forward and using a long, thin pole or whip to strike the hindquarters of a horse. The horse is harnessed to a carriage and is shown in a state of distress, with its head lowered and its body tensed. Inside the carriage, another person wearing a hat is visible, looking towards the man striking the horse. The background features a large, bright sun in a sky filled with diagonal hatching lines, suggesting a bright, possibly hot day. The overall style is that of a classic comic book or pulp magazine illustration, using heavy black lines and cross-hatching for shading and texture.

BANDITS HOLDING UP LOUIS MERCIER NEAR HAGGETT'S POND.

At a later point on the Lowell road, near Haggott's pond in Indiana, there occurred another attempt

At a lonely spot on the Lower road, near Haggitt's pond in Abbeville, there occurred another highway robbery and perhaps murder at about nine o'clock last night. The victim of the attempted hold-up was Louis E. Mercier, the potato chip and popcorn man of East Meadow road, this city. Two yeggmen, or men suffering from the new disease, "yeggomania," jumped out from a clump of bushes and ordered Mr. Mercier to give up his hands. Mr. Mercier whipped his horse and soon heard the bullets singing around him. The marks of four bullets were found in his wagon, and one of the deadly slugs, after passing through four large cans of goods, was found lodged in another can four inches from where Mercier was sitting in the wagon.

It was a daring attempt at a holdup and the entire town was in a state of excitement. Chief of Police L. D. Deane issued a word of officers went.

Came to Grief After an Ascen- sion Today

FARNBOROUGH, Aug. 15.—The British army dirigible balloon came to grief this afternoon upon returning here after its ascension. The ship had just landed when the wind caught it broadside and overturned it.

Capt. C. E. Capper, commandant of the balloon school Aldershot and Capt. F. S. Cody, the American inventor, managed to jump out of the car uninjured but the balloon was badly torn and the propeller damaged before the troops were able to capture it.

The airship had just previous covered a raid on the coast with and against the wind, during which flight it behaved well.

Miles an Hour

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The airship board of the signal service today calculated that Thomas S. Baldwin's dirigible balloon traveled at the rate of 19.61 miles per hour at the official test yesterday at Fort Myer.

Unless Gen. Allen, chief signal officer, allows Captain Baldwin further speed trials, the latter will now receive $5,737.50 for his military dirigible.

Captain Baldwin will now have an opportunity to make three trials for endurance. He must remain in continuous flight for a period of not less than two hours.

Friend of Count Szechenyi Wanted to Die

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Richard Von Arkov, aged 25, said to be a Hungarian baron, and a close friend of Count Szechenyi, who married Gladys Vanderbilt, attempted to commit suicide in an apartment house on 45th street today. Von Arkov was found in bed unconscious and inhaling illuminating gas through a rubber tube connected with a gas jet. He had been earning a living by writing for magazines and newspapers. He left notes to his landlady apologizing for his action and to his mother and the Hungarian consul. He was removed to the hospital in a dying condition. A manuscript which Von Arkov left told of his poverty and his renunciations of the Szechenyi wedding which he is said to have attended in the capacity of a correspondent.

The latest talk in regard to the Lynn club is that Fred Lake, the old Lowell player and manager, may be selected to lead that team for the rest of the year, or be given charge for next year. Lake would make an ideal man for the place as he knows the game thoroughly.

The Lawrence Eagle says: "Well, it's all off with the Lowell team and the fifty odd tubs entered from other cities. The Lawrence Veterans firemen say so and that settles it. They're going to the Spindle city next Thursday and they're going to take that first prize under the nose of every competitor. The local men gave their machine

The insurance company claims that the policy was obtained through alleged false misrepresentation. In the second case John B. Kelly sued the same company for $100,000 to recover on a policy made payable to him. A similar defense will be offered in this case. The third insurance case is that of Margaret Starns, Metropolitan Life Insurance company, in which the plaintiff sues to recover $50,000, the amount of a policy on her mother's life, which the company has refused to pay on the ground that false representations were made in obtaining the policy.

Boy Killed and Singer Fell Over Footlights

HAVERHILL, Aug. 15.—One boy killed by a car, a stage favorite's fall over the footlights of an outdoor theatre, coupled with the rescue of a boy from drowning and the injury of a trainman in the local freight yard, made up a chapter of accidents here today.

Six-year-old Lester Elms had his life crushed out beneath the truck of a Boston & Northern car, directly in front of the city stables on River street.

He had left the home of his parents at 215 River street and started to cross the street behind an incoming Lawrence car. This was followed by a Pines car, and in an instant the lad was beneath the fender, the body finally bringing up on the truck.

Miss Esther Wallace, a dramatic soprano, who has been taking part in the production of "A Jolly Fellow" at the Pines Amusement park, lost her balance yesterday afternoon and plunged over the footlights. In her descent of 7 feet or more she struck the piano and finally landed among the members of the orchestra. She received a wrenched ankle and internal injuries.

In the Bradford district, 10-year-old John McCue of 10 Lafayette street was playing on a coal scow at the wharf of the Haverhill Box Board Co. when it was struck by a tug and the boy was knocked into the river. A riverman, whose name could not be learned, plunged overboard and rescued the boy.

In the Boston & Maine freight yard this afternoon Michael Lynch, a yard conductor, was knocked down by a box car. One of the wheels crushed three toes and injured his ankle so seriously that at the Hale hospital it was said last night that the foot may have to be amputated.

TO ENDORSE BRYAN

Resolutions Introduced at the I. T. U. Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—A resolution that the International Typographical union endorse the democratic platform and candidates presented at the 5th annual convention of the union in this city late yesterday, threw the convention into a lively and spirited debate in which members of several parties took prominent part for and against the resolution. The resolution was finally withdrawn by request of the president, who suggested it would be preferable to have the resolution defeated, as it surely would be, and put the union on record as having "thrown down Bryan."

A declaration of political principles which contained no reference to parties or candidates was adopted. A proposition that the International Typographical union sever its connection with the American Federation of Labor and the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress was warmly discussed and defeated.

The declaration of political principles recommended to the membership that they carefully study political parties and measures to so vote as to best protect their interests as workmen and to prevent their being used as political party appendages.

Delegate Compton of San Francisco presented the resolution seeking the severing of ties with the A. F. of L. and Canadian congress. The committee reported unfavorably. Mr. Compton started the political talk by declaring he believed the A. F. of L. to be a political organization today.

Thomas N. Nolan of Boston, declared President Gompers attended the two great political conventions to ask for assurances of support of laws against injunctions as desired by organized labor, and he had a right to make his own personal choice of parties with which to affiliate himself.

The report of the committee, unfavorable to the resolutions was then adopted.

Resolutions by Delegate Henry West of Birmingham, Ala., then came up for discussion, being as follows:

"Whereas political action is being used by all labor organizations; and "Whereas Samuel Gompers, the Napoleon of organized labor, and a life-time republican has lost faith in his old party and is now supporting the democratic ticket in the hope of securing labor's needed reforms; and "Whereas, through Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, William Jennings Bryan and others who are known to be friends of trade unions and the masses of the people, we have secured promises of fair legislation and fair execution of law; be it therefore

"Resolved, that the I. T. U., in 5th annual session, do endorse the National democratic platform, adopted at the Denver convention and urge all the trade unionists to use every honorable means to secure the election of the democratic nominees."

Immediately a vigorous and determined argument started. President Lynch ruled the resolution could be discussed. An appeal was taken and the chair sustained.

Victor Berger of Milwaukee, a socialist, asked a difference between the republican and democratic parties, declaring "one was as bad as the other."

Delegate Estey of Paterson, N. J., eulogized Gompers and then made a plea for the independence party which he thought was best. Laughter greeted his endeavors.

It was suggested Mr. West withdraw his resolution. President Lynch declared:

"I believe the resolution should be

Mr. West withdrew the resolutions. A proposition for union headquarters building at Indianapolis was referred to the executive committee. During the morning session business was suspended while Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot spoke on the necessity of the conservation of the nation's natural resources.

ANNA S. PECK

REACHED ALTITUDE OF 25,000 FEET IN MOUNTAIN.

LEMA, Peru, Aug. 15.—Miss Anna S. Peck, of Providence, R. I., the mountain climber, signalled at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon her arrival at an altitude of 25,000 feet on Mount Huascaran, the summit of which is covered with perpetual snow. The energy displayed by Miss Peck in scaling this mountain has brought forth expressions of astonishment from the natives. She is accompanied by two trained Alpine climbers.

Miss Peck left New York two months ago to make another attempt to reach the summit of Mount Huascaran, which she believed to be the highest peak in the western hemisphere. On an earlier trial she was compelled to give up the attempt after reaching a height of 17,500 feet owing to the cowardice of her guides. By reaching an altitude of 25,000 feet Miss Peck has ascended higher than man or woman in the world. The previous record was held by W. W. Graham, who reached a height of 23,800 feet in the Himalayas. Miss Peck began her mountain climbing in 1895, when she scaled the Matter Horn. She ascended Cans Mount Sorata in Bolivia, reaching a height of 20,500 feet.

HELD AN IDEAL OUTING AND PLAYED BALL.

With modesty becoming so great a poet, the author of the following classic requests, in words written with scented ink and golden pen, not to divulge his name. He fears that once in the limelight he would be deluged with letters from other great authors and magazine people. He professes the information that he has been writing poetry since he was a little boy and his first effort, he says, delighted his parents, teachers and friends, especially because of its Shakespearean contour and power of expression. The poem is so long we shall have to do violence to his feelings by giving merely a few sample stanzas.

NO. 1.
The Prudential Men's outing held on Thursday
Was the time of their lives, they one and all say.
They took the car from Lawrence, from there to Welch's pond.
Had lots to eat and drink of things which all were fond.

NO. 2.
When they struck the pond they played a game of ball;
Out of Lawrence, the opposing team, they took a mighty fall.
Joe Herrick, who played centre, had a basket to catch fire.
But a hole was in the basket much to little Joe's surprise.

NO. 3.
Tom Trainor, who was umpire, couldn't see it Johnnie's way.
Then Bill he up and told him he'd umpire no more that day.
Joe McCann then took the job, he was looking spite and span.
He lasted three whole innings, the bombardment then began.

NO. 4.
Then all adjourned to the hotel and had a corking dinner.
Jack Fay ate everything in sight, if he didn't like slimmer.
At five o'clock all started home after a good day's fun.
Assistant Cassidy wore a smile his Lowell boys had won.

DECEIVE OFFICER

Twins Foil Men Who Served Papers

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Count Ignatz and Count Carlos Gomboss are twins. Their friends at the Waldorf, which they much frequent, say the Gombosses look as much alike as two Hungarian hussars in uniform.

Miss Loretta Phanney has begun suit in the supreme court against Count Ignatz for $50,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. Her counsel, Louis T. Schwartz, gave the papers in the case to J. W. Staff, a process server, and Staff declares he sought Ignatz for a fortnight in vain. Yesterday Mr. Schwartz, his clerk, Keze Taffe and Staff went to the Waldorf cafe. There twirling his mustache and talking to friends, stood Count Ignatz. A little distance from him was Count Carlos, twirling his mustache and talking to friends.

As Staff, papers in hand, hurried toward Ignatz Gomboss, the count grasped the situation instantly.

"Do not bother me," he said haughtily, waving Staff away. "I am Count Carlos Gomboss. My brother, Count Ignatz, whom you seek, probably, is over there."

Ignatz strolled from the cafe; Staff hurried over to Count Carlos, who grasped the situation too.

To give his twin brother a good start, Count Carlos leisurely looked over the papers, then throwing them on the floor, rushed from the cafe and ran at top speed east on Thirty-fourth street. Staff overtook Carlos at Madison avenue.

The brothers' ruse was then disclosed. Papers were later served on both to prevent any escape.

He Covered 24 Miles in His Balloon

EAST CHARLEMONT, Aug. 15.—Charles J. Glidden of Lowell, accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Clayton of Boston, landed in this town at a spot about one and one-half miles from Shelburne Falls at 7 o'clock last night.

The landing was made at a distance of 24 miles, air line, from North Adams, where the ascent was made at 5:40 o'clock. The highest altitude reached was 4900 feet, where varying currents were found which caused the balloon to spin like a top, an unusual experience.

Both Mr. Glidden and Mrs. Clayton expressed themselves as delighted with the trip. Mrs. Clayton expressed no fear throughout the journey and in fact made the landing herself, having full control of the balloon and effecting a landing as easily as stepping from a carriage.

FLAGRANT MISMANAGEMENT BY POLICE.

The yeggmen who murdered two officers in Methuen are still at large, and there seems to be no clue whatever to connect anybody known to the police with the crime.

That is the usual result when a tragedy of this kind occurs in a small town. We had a good example of that in the Arlington murder case in which Miss Mullins was the victim.

The chief of police did nothing himself, and he failed to call in the police of the neighboring cities. He had even consented to have the dead girl's belongings, including a locked trunk, shipped to her Canadian home without examination by the police for anything that would throw light on the mystery.

In such cases the state police should step in and take full charge of the case before it is too late to catch the culprits with the evidence of their crime.

There is some excuse, it is true, for the slow action of the Methuen police when two of their number were murdered. The chief is a decrepit old man and cannot be expected to do active work.

The case, so far as prompt action for the detection of the criminals is concerned, was woefully mismanaged, and it is doubtful if ever any trace of the murderers will be found. They can go on committing fresh crimes with increased confidence of security, since they have made good their escape after killing two police officers. Hereafter we may expect that the yeggs will lay plans to dispose of police officers in the same way, when as in the Methuen case these are found in lonely places.

The city of Boston did not have the success that might be expected of her well organized force in meeting the onslaught of the yeggmen. Had the gang been captured in that city there would probably have been no murder at Methuen.

LAWSON'S SCHEME TO GET MONEY.

After a great deal of blow and bluster against the "system" Thomas W. Lawson has now a scheme to put against the "system" that seems to be fully as bad as anything fathered by the "system."

According to the statement of Mr. Lawson's advertisements he has a monster corporation with a billion dollars authorized capital to put up against the systems of Rockefeller, Rogers and Morgan in the name of the Bay State Gas company. This is a scheme by which Lawson may expect to get the people's money. He has often advised the people to invest in stocks that collapsed utterly soon after his advice was given.

Lawson is a man whose advice is often very deceptive. It would not be safe to take his advice, nor would it be safe always to do the very opposite of what he advises.

Let Lawson dispose of his Bay State gas stock elsewhere. Time will soon demonstrate just what this "assault" on the system amounts to, whether it is sincere or only a bluff like many of the other schemes emanating from Lawson.

WARNING TO OTHER CITIES.

The shooting of an officer in Lynn yesterday morning with the attempt to blow open the safe at the railroad station, shows that the desperadoes are not all scared off as yet. They appear to be emboldened by the success with which some escape arrest for the greatest crimes on the calendar.

This fresh outbreak should serve as a warning to other cities to be prepared for such visitors.

The number of police, it seems, should be increased in certain parts of this city while the guards upon banks, railroad stations and large stores should be more vigilant than ever; and they should take care that no band of yeggmen can put them out of business as a preliminary to a safe-blowing job.

Recently, it must be acknowledged that, the Lowell police have done good work in catching criminals who make a specialty of burglary. It is to be hoped they will keep up the good record and see that the yeggmen cannot ply their nefarious business in Lowell and escape.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Now, my boy," said the prosperous sire, and, by the way, this has local reference, "seeing that fortune has favored me, I feel it my duty to share my good luck with you. I am now in a position to allow you the education necessary for any of the professions that will carry you through. I do not want that you should drift with the tide, like me, without a purpose in life, and I, looking wise and the loving and prosperous father, could feel the tremor of something more than an ordinary knockabout. Name that which you were running riot in his boy's brain would have in the line of a profession, and while he was wondering what the

and I will do the rest."
"Father," The word that meant so much was quietly and almost softly whispered.
"Yes, my boy, what sayest thou?" said the prosperous sire.
"Would I have to study?" inquired the worthy action.
"Indeed, yes," said the father. "One must study and persevere in order to attain."
There was a pause. The son was one without a purpose in life, and I, looking wise and the loving and prosperous father, could feel the tremor of something more than an ordinary knockabout. Name that which you were running riot in his boy's brain would have in the line of a profession, and while he was wondering what the decision would be, what aim the mental marksmen would make, a whisper, dull and low, broke the silence.

"Father," said the whispering voice.
"Yes, my son, what is it?"
"I want—I want to be a hack driver."

One S. E. Kiser wrote this: Yes, they used to call me "Willie," but they soon got over that; Such a name sounds very silly if its bearer's big and fat. Go your way, and go it blindly; vote for Bryan if you will. But I beg that you will kindly be disposed to call me Bill.

Lives of great men all remind us that the Willies are the better behind us; Whom we swiftly leave behind us; they produce but little noise. Let us, then, be up and doing, while the way is open still. But you'll find that trouble's brewing if you fail to call me Bill.

Please, good sir, cut out the "mister"; It's a title that I hate; Let me kiss your baby sister—I can do it while you wait. Say I'm not a statesman, blame me for my record if you will. Fling mud at me and defame me, but please always call me Bill.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THAW'S BANKRUPTCY CRITICIZED.

New York Commercial: If from out a sorry mess of gush and mush and vapors and braggadocio over claims for services or supposed services in connection with the two Thaw murder trials, and with the defendant's recent move to be declared a bankrupt, it were possible to pick an opinion possessing a semblance of sanity and reasonableness, it would be the declaration by "Dan" O'Reilly, a one-time attorney in the mixup, that Harry Kendall Thaw has no legal right to go into bankruptcy. In the eyes of the law, it is explained, this man is a logically-adjudged lunatic—an insane person, formally committed to an asylum for the care of the crazy by a justice of the supreme court of New York state; and by that very commitment he was then and there shut out from administering his estate or his person, even. There is reason and common sense and "good law" in this view of the most recent turn in the uncanny case. If anybody has a valid money claim against this man, the proper—perhaps the only—way to get it adjusted and paid is to apply to the judge who committed him or to some court of equal authority for the appointment of a committee of his person and his estate. For the Pittsburgh court to entertain Thaw's personal application for a receiver and to act on it was obviously illegal, and any acts by such receiver could presumably be declared null and void on the ground that a legally adjudged lunatic cannot lawfully make application for a receiver. The manner in which about 99 persons out of every 100 who come into contact with Thaw or get in any way connected with his case, apparently regard him as, strongly suggestive of opera bouffe. They talk with him, quote his statements, do business with him and so on, just as they would with any man in a perfectly normal condition of mind and yet the only thing that clothes Thaw with any measure of public importance or of public interest at the moment is the fact that he is a legally-declared lunatic confined in a "crazy-house." It is not confined in a "crazy-house." If this adjudication is sound and is to stand, then this lunatic ought to be treated as a lunatic, nothing more, nothing less. If he is sane, then his name let him be set loose and the disgusting farce be taken off the public stage.

WILD AND WOOLY BOSTON. Concord Patriot: We are really becoming a little bit ashamed of old Boston. She is getting entirely too gay in her advanced years. There was a man named Tracy out west some years ago who shot up several towns, but he was eventually tracked and disposed of, but a man can go to Boston when he likes, kill as many policemen as he can lay eyes on and when he wants to leave, turn and walk out through a cemetery or something of the kind and that is all there is to it. There used to be a saying about the empire moving westward and that may be true, but the life that used to be common on the frontier is moving eastward. Some years ago along the Rockies every man carried a gun, and when occasion called, fingered it carefully. In the west, now, there is peace; civilization hangs along the foothills, culture and refinement as compared with Boston, are found there. We will have to do something for the old town. We cannot afford to see her lose her reputation in this way.

TEMPTING ACCIDENT.

New Bedford Standard: The number of railroad accidents in this country in a year is indeed appalling; and here is a sample of the way in which many of them come about. At Revere beach, last Sunday, after a train had pulled out, two men ran for the smoking car. One of them reached it safely. The other slipped and fell underneath the train, to be crushed to death. One careless man escaped the penalty of his carelessness; the other paid. He will add one more to the number which will be reported at the close of this year.

Left by the main party of the mountaineers' club and compelled to compete with her husband and two other men, Mrs. H. L. Thompson, of the party which ascended Mount Baker, made the ascent and descent in a half hour less than it took the principal party to make the ascent alone. Mrs. Thompson is the smallest woman to reach the summit of Mount Baker.

Mrs. Thompson, with her husband and R. H. Bailey and Mayo Sensing, left the permanent camp the night before the principal party started for the last climb for the summit to see the surrounding country, having received assurances from the chief of the party, they say, that the ascent would not be made until the next day. When they were gone the main party decided to leave the permanent camp, and the next day at noon the ascent was made, with the aid of field glasses, making their way up the mountainside.

The four climbed the services of Joe Morowitz, a veteran guide, and followed the main party toward their destination. Mrs. Thompson, although weighing less than ninety pounds, easily kept up with her male companions and in fact evidenced even less fatigue than they did facing the severe gale that blew around the summit, she plodded on, never once calling upon her companions or the guide for assistance.

No greater difficulties were encountered than those ordinarily met with in climbing Mount Baker. She would not admit to the men that she could endure less than they. In fact, her husband was heard to complain before she uttered a word about the hardships of the ascent.

The party was determined to make a more flattering record than the party that had left them, and aided by the experience of their guide they ignored circuitous paths and went up the face of the mountain as far as was practicable. They made many short cuts, although the dangers were fraught with extreme danger, and succeeded in reaching the summit in a shorter time than it took Ashel Curtis and his charges to attain the crater.

On the return from the summit the party made the descent in double quick time and many were the rapid toboggan slides down steep declivities that Mrs. Thompson enjoyed. Both parties returned to the city together Monday morning.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Two men were killed and nearly a dozen others were overcome in a manhole of the Empire City subway company yesterday afternoon, by gas from a leaking main.

The dead men, Michael Muldoon and Peter Collins, employees of the company, had gone on a hunt for a leak which for some time had filled the conduits with gas, and they had examined all the manholes from 23d street up to 45th before they descended into the fatal one at that point on 5th avenue. They were in charge of Foreman Hollahan of the construction department, and when they failed to send up word after a reasonable time he started down to the manhole to find out the reason, but he was quickly driven back by the fumes and shouted for help. The police reserves, firemen and ambulances were summoned and eventually a dozen or more persons—fellow workmen, policemen and firemen—tried to rescue the two men. But all efforts were unavailing. Each man in his turn was overcome and soon had to be drawn back by the rope to which he was attached. Few of those overcome by the fumes revived on the spot, but the majority had to be taken to a hospital. The bodies of the two men were recovered after employees of the gas company appeared and the gas at that point was shut off.

STATE PRISON

Horrigan Gets Four to Six Years

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Judge Crosby in the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon sentenced John V. Horrigan, a South End young man, to state prison for a term of not more than six or less than four years on a charge of robbery.

With Lawrence O'Neil, whose case will not be reached until next month, Horrigan was indicted on two counts of robbery. June 8, it is alleged, they held up a companion named James Brennan in the rear of 114 Hemenway street and stole $3 from him. Shortly after the job at the Back Bay Horrigan went to South Boston with O'Neil, where, it is alleged, they held up Philip Thorne, a junk dealer.

Horrigan pleaded guilty yesterday and Special Officer Murphy of the Back Bay division gave him a very hard name, testifying that he always carried a revolver, and that only a few months ago he was released from the reformatory after serving an indeterminate sentence for shooting at his brother.

Francis, alias "Mugsy" Chambers, of South Boston, was convicted of breaking and entering. The lad is but 15 years old, and Judge Crosby talked to him in a fatherly way. Chambers has kept company, the police testified, with a bad lot, his gang being known as the "Forty Thieves of South Boston." His honor sentenced him to Concord. The grand jury at its September term will consider a robbery charge in which Mugsy is one of the principals. Everett Goodrich, aged 22, was placed on probation on a charge of stealing $1300. It was testified that he had made full restitution and was ready to lead an honest life hereafter. John Devlin of Roxbury was sentenced to the reformatory yesterday by Judge Crosby for an indefinite term. Young Devlin was arrested for larceny last winter and was placed on probation. The probation officials surrendered him yesterday because he had failed to keep the terms on which he was allowed to go. The police say he has been associated with some of the worst boys in Roxbury, and was arrested on charge of robbery, but the grand jury found "no bill."

EMPLOYEES OUTING

Federal Shoe Company Takes
a Day Off

SHOOTING THE SHUTES.

Everybody From Supt. Shanahan
Down the Line Went to Revere
for First Annual Outing—Supt.
Shanahan Gives Shore Dinner
to 300 Emloyes

The employees of the Federal Shoe company and their families to the number of 300 took special cars at 7:45 o'clock this morning for their first annual outing at Revere and Wonderland. Everyone had a red badge suitably inscribed and carried a blue banner with inscription: "Federal Shoe Company Employees." Upon arriving at the grounds all had free admission to Wonderland and they took in everything.

At one o'clock all repaired to the Hotel Pleasanton, where they were the guests of Mr. Daniel W. Shanahan, the popular superintendent of the Federal Shoe company's local plant, and under whose administration the plant has been very successful. A first class shore dinner was served that made everybody happy. During the dinner the crowd had much fun though everything was informal. Mr. D. B. Kingsbury, the agent of the company and one of the best known shoe salesmen in the country, was unable to attend and expressed his regrets in a letter which was read by Supt. Shanahan. Mr. J. J. Rogers, formerly with the Federal company, but now superintendent of the shoe shop in the Vermont state prison, at Windsor, wrote a humorous letter of regret, stating that while it would give him the greatest pleasure to be with the crowd his present residence was such that he found it impossible to get away. He was "barred" from attending. Letters of regret were also received from William Jennings Bryan and William Taft. Mr. Bryan stated that he was obliged to keep an engagement with a phonograph company today or otherwise he would have been present, while Mr. Taft stated that while he adored shore dinners, the tailors are now finding fault with the amount of cloth necessary to build him a suit and for that reason he was faces of Mr. L. Addington and Miss keeping away from the temptation Burroughs were missed and a toast was drunk to their good health and happiness. About 2:30 the call to wash was sounded and in a short time the Federals to a man, woman and child were in the trays. Ernest Spalding made a hit as a fancy diver and one young lady who didn't want her name mentioned gave an exhibition of swimming that made Annette Kellerman, the professional swimmer, get under a wave and hide. After the bath, the party took to Wonderland again, and Supt. Shanahan made a new record for shooting the chutes. At 7:30 the party were due to leave and expect to arrive home at 10:30. The committee in charge of the outing was as follows: Ernest Spalding, chairman; Supt. Shanahan, Joe Edmunds, Miss Elizabeth Roche, Frank Rogers, Miss Agnes Fitzpatrick, Miss Agnes McLaughlin and Joseph Sheppard.

OH! BE JOLLY—JOIN THE TROLLEY.

Cast away your every sorrow,
Bank your troubles for the morrow,
For today we're brimming over with good cheer,
"Specials" long the line are "filing."
Everyone is bright and smiling,
'Tis the Federal's mammoth outing to Revere.
There Old Sol's bright rays are brightest.
There the crested waves are whitest,
And the sky has donned its most inviting hue.
Oh! There's pleasure in the meetings
And the glad exchange of greetings,
When you join the crowd, who
"Cut" the Federal Shoe.

For get your daily "Operations,"
And the latest "Calf" quotations, Let your "Calf" thoughts now unleash with the past,
While the "Nigger-heads" are trembling,
Where the wavelets are "Assembling,"
As the Ocean "Pounds up" gaily to the "Last."
The loud "Taps" give invitation,
Of that "Tip-Tap" inspirations, That some good things the "Inner-soul" would like to woo,
Oh! there's pleasure in the treasure,
Of the "Quarters" none can measure,
"Slitch" the "Federal Shoe."

When the Chutes, perchance you're roughing, Far removed from thoughts, of "Buffing,"
And you're dreams, are neither
"Standards" nor "McKays,"
While your rival is still swimming,
You may do a stroke at "Trimming,"
With some little "Singer" who so often "Stays,"
"Tongue" or "Pen" can't tell the feeling,
Of delight that comes a stealing,
When thro' Love's Journey, you may
"Slug" for two,
"The glad memories" in "Short-Time-Slips," Ne'er a shop mate on the line "Splits,"
When you join the crowd, who
"Make" the "Federal Shoe."

When in Wonderland you're shining,
Where the crowd is ever "Lining,"
And the honest man "Rubs" elbows with the crook,
Put a "Staple" on your pocket,
"Lace" it up, you can't look it, Else they'll "Slirring" you, and your "Finish" is the "Hook,"
See the happy laughing faces,
Ne'er a thought about "Short-cases," Seeking pleasure, where the rippling water's blue,
'Tis the "Climax" of all pleasure,
And a memory all must treasure,
"Pack" the "Federal Shoe."

When the evening shadows "Closing,"
And the fair ones are proposing,
And you're "Sorting" souvenirs of Crescent beach,
Your best "Closer-on" but lighter,
Off you've hugged your wallet tighter,
But at "tag" who could resist that little peach,
Take a "Tip" before skiddooing,
There's a pleasure in canoeing,
Should your Merry Widow, wear a "Kangaroo,"
"Ring in at the Dock" 'tis jolly,
You may "Check" aboard the trolley,
When you join the crowd, who
"Wear" the "Federal Shoe,"
"Frank" Rocks.

E. G. RUSSELL'S SALES.

Eugene G. Russell, real estate dealer, with offices at 407 Middlesex street, has made the following sales the past week:
A lot of land numbered 19 on Bellevue street, near the corner of Shelton street, on the easterly side, has been throughout this country and Europe with Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, brought him into wide prominence.

Sankey, it might be said, wrote the Gospel hymns of the world. He received a large income from his publishers and had acquired a considerable estate. Among Mr. Sankey's most familiar compositions are: "The Ninety and Nine" and "When the Mists Have Rolled Away."
His songs are said to have a circulation of more than fifty million copies.
In 1902 his physical condition compelled him to give up most of his evangelistic engagements, although he continued for some time to do editorial work in compiling a new series of hymn books. Then came failing eyesight, which speedily developed in total blindness. With the blindness came also a nervous breakdown. He is survived by a widow, Fannie V. Sankey, his two sons, Helen Sankey and Edward Sankey, and two grandchildren.

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless prescription which can be filled at any Drug Store: Cleara-lin, or Either 1 oz.
Alcohol 1 oz. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning anyway, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment, you will soon have a clear and brilliant complexion."

"Both of you are using the woman's weapon—your tongues," said Judge Pickman in police court this morning to the complainant and defendant in a case of threatening.

The case was that of Alice Spalding, an elderly woman, who was charged with threatening to do bodily harm to Margaret Hennessey.

Both women reside at 12 North street and have not been on the best of terms for some time. One accuses the other of doing certain things and then there is a battle of words that can be heard several blocks away.

"It was just like this," said the Hennessy woman: "We live opposite each other at 12 North street and she insists upon lying about me. Yesterday she asked me to come into her house and I says, 'What should I go into your house for?' and then she says 'I want to see you.' I might have gone in but what did I see behind her back but an axe. When she saw that I saw what she had in her hand she dropped the axe and I started to run. I looks the door of my house, but getting frightened I start to go to Mrs. Molney who lives down stairs. It was then that Mrs. Spalding, with a knife in her hand, up and at me, but I dodged her.
She then shouted 'I am a Spaniard and would put this through your heart,' and she would, Your Honor, but for the fact that I got away from her.
I am afraid of her for I know she would like to cut my heart out."

Mrs. Spalding was called and said:
"I never had an axe in my house anymore than you have one, Your Honor."
She acknowledged that she had a knife, saying that one day when she went down to her cellar an Armenian jumped out of a closet and tried to stab her, he dropped the knife and since then she has kept it for protection.

Judge Pickman was of the opinion that it was one of the women's tongue lastings contests which some people are wont to indulge in and said that both were using the woman's weapon—the tongue.

He tried to conciliate the women and had both standing in front of the bench and giving them some good advice when the Hennessey woman said:
"Look at her (the Spalding woman)
now. She would like to jump at me,
Your Honor."

Mrs. Spalding was found guilty and placed in the hands of the probation officer for a period of six months.

ACCUSES WIFE

William Hepner Seeks
a Separation

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A sequel to the advertisement in which William Hepner, the wigmaker, make known that he was no longer responsible for the debts of his wife, formerly Frances Lillian Hutkoff, came yesterday in the announcement that Hepner has already brought an action for legal separation. "Cruel and inhuman treatment" is the allegation in the complaint.

In an action brought through his attorney, Herman L. Roth, Hepner alleges that his wife had been in the habit of using violent language in the presence of their children, that she had treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner, etc., etc. One specific charge is that on July 15 of this year,
she "entered the defendant's place of business, created a disturbance, collected a crowd and used language too offensive to be herein set forth."

When seen yesterday afternoon at the summer home of her mother, Mrs.
Hutkoff, No. 1 Stratton avenue, Ar-
verne, Mrs. Hepner refused to discuss her matrimonial difficulties at any length.

Mrs. Hirschfeld, a sister of Mrs.
Hepner, was more communicative.
"Our side of the story sounds very different from that told by Billy Hepner," said she. "Why, his marriage with my sister has literally made him
in a business way, and it is her money that he has been spending so lavishly with his actress friends. I have known Billy Hepner for a long time,
and when he got his divorce from Louise Willis, and afterward became engaged to my sister, we all thought he was in the right line."

"It was not until his engagement to my sister had been announced that I knew of his first marriage, and of the hard-working wife he separated from in order to marry Miss Willis. My sister is long-suffering, but now things
have come to a crisis."

Hepner's attorney, Roth, said yesterday that Mrs. Hepner's ungovernable temper and her manner of treating her husband made it impossible for them to live together.

"We are forced to put that notice in the paper," said Mr. Roth, "for although Mr. Hepner is a well-to-do business man, he could not stand the drain that his wife was making on his purse. We hope to arrange the matter out of court, and in that case Mrs.
Hepner will have the custody of the children for the time being. She is the proper person to bring them up."

Judge Goldfogle branded the charges contained in the complaint as absurd.

The two little Hepner daughters,
Muriel and Beatrice, are with Mrs.
Hepner at her mother's home.

Man Was Beaten and Robbed by Yeggmen

DEDHAM, Aug. 15.—Brutally beaten by yeggs, gagged and bound, George E. Collier was robbed of $35 at Dedham Four Corners, near the Hyde Park line, yesterday afternoon, by four men, and left bound to a tree in the woods nearby in an unconscious condition.

The man was heard moaning by some passing women late in the afternoon, three hours after the holdup and an investigation being made by William Fardy, the plight of the man was discovered.

Collier, who lives at 118 Cottage street, Norwood, when he had somewhat recovered at the Dedham hospital, told the police his story.

He said he was a collector for an insurance company and had been making collections in Dedham throughout the day. He started toward home shortly before 2 o'clock and had reached River street, a lonely place at Dedham Four Corners. Suddenly two men appeared in front of him and presented revolvers at his head. One he plainly saw to be an automatic gun, such as were used by the Jamaica Plain bandits. Almost at the same time two men grabbed Collier from behind. He was dragged into the small woods beside

SEEK ORGANIZER PRES. ROOSEVELT

Man Formed a Widow's Syndicate Severely Arranged by Dr. Hull

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 15.—Deputy Sheriff J. L. Sheffield of Glastonbury began search for George C. Thompson, organizer of Widow's Syndicate, who induced Mrs. Jane Eliza Tillotson of Plainville, to marry him after she had known him four days.

He suspects that Thompson is the man who on April 23 asked Glastonbury, a well-to-do farmer of Glastonbury, in Hartford, if there were any farms for sale in Glastonbury.

The farmer drove the man out and on the way the stranger asked about elderly women owning property. Then he told Urbansky that he was Andy Welsh, owner of Charter Oak park, and was going to buy up Glastonbury. Mr. Welsh is a reputable citizen, one of Hartford's solid men. He isn't looking for farms or real estate.

On the way they stopped at the home of a woman who knew Andy Welsh, and the stranger admitted he had made a mistake. He was not Welsh, but Walsh, a horse breeder and millionaire.

Urbansky introduced him to Mrs. W. R. Stead and "Walsh" told her he had four automobiles at home, and would she lend him her gloves. She lent them and he wore them three days.

He went to Mrs. Alice T. Sampson, a young widow, and tried to buy her house, saying he wanted to tear it down and build a mansion in its place. She refused to sell. Then he tried to buy the house of an Austrian widow and asked her if she would like him for a husband. She slapped his face.

He induced Mrs. W. R. Stead to board him three days and went off without paying.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

Some of the Issues Involved in the Election

As if that 45 per cent penalty to keep out machinery were not comprehensive enough, the Dingley tariff puts up a still wider stretched blockade net. Section 6 reads:

That there shall be levied, collected, and paid on the importation of all raw or unmanufactured articles, not enumerated or provided for in this act, a duty of ten per centum ad valorem, and on all articles manufactured, in whole or in part, not provided for in this act, a duty of twenty per centum ad valorem.

To make the net too fine for anything to slip through, section 7 provides:

That each and every imported article not enumerated in this act, which is similar, either in material, quality, texture, or the use to which it is applied, to any article enumerated in this act as chargeable with duty, shall pay the same rate of duty which is levied on the enumerated article which it most resembles in any of the particulars before mentioned.

And if any non-enumerated article equally resembles two or more enumerated articles on which different rates of duty are chargeable, there shall be levied on such non-enumerated article the same duty as is chargeable on the article which it resembles paying the highest rate of duty.

And on articles not enumerated, manufactured of more materials, the duty shall be assessed at the highest rate at which the same would be chargeable if composed wholly of the component material thereof of chief value.

If two or more rates of duty shall be applicable to any imported article, it shall pay duty at the highest of such rates.

The Dingley tariff is a law to prevent trade—a law that forbids trade under heavy penalties—penalties of twenty to a hundred percent.

HEAVY LOSS

SARATOGA RACE MEET SHOWS DEFICIT OF $70,000.

SARATOGA, Aug. 15.—The race meeting here this season has lost $70,000. This statement is made on the authority of an official of the Saratoga racing association. During the early part of the meeting the attendance was very light, but during the last eight days it improved considerably.

If the association had cut out many of their $10,000 stakes they would have been able to meet the running expenses and ended the sport with a few thousand dollars' profit. The race meeting ends today with the Hopalong stakes, which is worth nearly $30,000, the North American stakes and the Merchants and Citizens' handicap.

The association has figured upon a good attendance, but it should rain and racegoers remain at home the loss will exceed $70,000.

HER BIRTHDAY

MISS ESTABROOK PRESENTED A GOLD BRACELET.

Miss Lillian Estabrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Estabrook of 32 Congress street, entertained a number of her friends Thursday night, the occasion being the 18th anniversary of the birth of that young lady. Miss Mabel Barrett, on behalf of the friends assembled, presented Miss Estabrook a gold bracelet, suitably engraved. The hostess was also the recipient of many other beautiful gifts.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games in the different rooms that had been decorated with various kinds of flowers and ferns in an artistic manner. A pleasing feature of the evening festival was the bountiful luncheon served by Mrs. Estabrook, assisted by Mrs. Charles Barrett and Mrs. Edward McGinnis. There were piano solos by Miss Mabel Barrett and Miss Ida Phil. Mr. Willie Haynes and John Toy; vocal solos by Miss Esther Phil and John Toy.

BLIND WORKERS

Mr. Charles F. Campbell, superintendent of the Industrial department of the Massachusetts Commission for the Blind, a delegate, writing from England, says that America has much to learn from the United Kingdom in caring for the providing employment for her blind.

LOST HIS LIFE

MAN WAS CRUSHED TO DEATH AT REPAIR SHOP.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Lawrence W. Griffin, aged 32, of 28 Lambert street, Roxbury, a painter for the Boston Elevated, was crushed to death yesterday afternoon at the elevated repair shop at Washington and Guild streets.

About 2:30 an elevated train that was being backed from the yard into the Dudley street terminal shed struck an open switch and ran into a train of three cars standing on the track being repaired. Griffin was at work on the rear car of the train.

When the crash came he was pinned between the car and the wall of the shop, and his head was crushed in. Jeremiah Hayes of 58 Spring street, East Cambridge, tripped in trying to get out of the way of the cars, and suffered a broken ankle.

Griffin's body was taken to the city hospital morgue.

LOSS IS $40,000

Fire at the Agricultural College at Amherst

AMHERST, Aug. 15.—Fire early today destroyed the main building of the large farm at the Massachusetts Agricultural college here. Two valuable Holstein and Jersey bulls and eleven calves, together with a large quantity of hay and farm machinery was also burned.

Two young students, W. C. and M. E. Greer, brothers, of Springfield, who were acting as caretakers of the barn during their vacation and who were asleep in the building at the time, had a narrow escape. Awakened by the crackling of the flames they fought their way to the outer door, but here they were stopped as the door had become so sprung that it was only after a long struggle that they finally made their escape. Both had their hands badly burned.

The total loss is estimated at about $40,000 of which $30,000 is placed on the building. A large wing used as a dairy and cow barn and which was separated from the main building by a cement wall, was saved. The building was erected about eighteen months ago and was one of the most modern in the state. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

STACK FELL DOWN ATTACKS WOMAN

At Fifield Tool Co. Plant Whom She Found With Husband

Several workmen narrowly escaped terrible injuries, while damage to property to the extent of $150 was done by the falling of an immense chimney at the new plant of the Fifield Tool company, in Marginal street, yesterday afternoon.

The work of reconstructing the plant has progressed rapidly under the direction of E. Garfield Baker. of the Baker Construction company and yesterday preparations were made to put the 90 foot steel smoke stack in place. After much difficulty the stack was lifted into the air but it was not set to the satisfaction of Mr. Baker, who ordered it taken down again.

During the second attempt to raise the stack one of the guy fasteners gave away and the stack fell with a crash. In falling it struck on the main building, smashing the coping as well as a part of the monitor. The stack was not badly damaged. Previous to the work, everyone not connected with the work, was warned to keep off the property. Guy fasteners were placed at convenient intervals, one of which extended over the railroad tracks and was particularly well guarded.

George Groehn and Charles Hibbard were standing at the entrance to the engine room directly in the path of the falling stack but they ran to a place of safety. Patrick O'Connor, Frank Bernard and John Monroe, escaped injury by jumping through a window.

The smoke stack was set in place today.

TAMMANY LEADER

Says That Democrats Will Win This Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, gave out an interview today in which he declared that his view of the political situation in New York state is that "the democracy is going to win this year." Of Mr. Bryan the Tammany chieftain said:

"Mr. Bryan is much stronger in the state than he was either in 1896 or 1900. Why? I do not exactly know yet, but the fact remains that there is a variety of evidence on which to base belief in his increased popularity. "One reason, I think, lies in dissatisfaction with Roosevelt and Roosevelt policies—too much autocratic rule and swinging of the big stick. A great many men who sided with the republican party in the past will not do so this year. It means something when men like Judge Morgan, J. O'Brien and Delancey Nicoll, who opposed Bryan in the past, are now going to vote for him."

"Will Mr. Bryan at the head of the national ticket be a help to the state democratic ticket instead of a drag, as in the past?" was asked.

Mob Wanted to Get Negroes Who Assaulted White Woman

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 15.—A mob of more than 300 men attacked Portsmouth jail at one o'clock this morning bent on lynching William King and Henry Smith, both negroes, who were held on the charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Katherine Howell, an aged white woman, last Monday. The negroes had been removed to Norfolk jail earlier in the evening for safe-keeping.

The mob forced the doors of the jail and were met by Deputy Sheriff Hurtybert and half a score of officers, of whom the cell keys were demanded and refused. The crowd was forced back by the policemen with drawn weapons and the fire department was called out to disperse the mob with the officers. Under orders of Mayor Reed, the police arrested Wade Codd, Martin L. Westerbrooke and T. O'Williams, white men, and half a score of negro ringleaders. Warrants have been issued for a half hundred more.

WANTS $50,000 GRAND OFFICERS

Woman Alleges Breach of Promise Were Elected by the Eagles

PAWTUCKET, Aug. 15.—Benjamin F. Smith, one of the wealthiest citizens of Pawtucket, was sued yesterday for $50,000 by Miss Caroline M. Matteson, who says that the rich mill builder asked her to marry him just one month after the death of his wife, and then jilted her.

Miss Matteson is about 46 years old and is socially prominent, being related to many of the leading families in this vicinity. Mr. Smith is 60 years of age.

It was in October, 1907, Miss Matteson alleges, that Mr. Smith asked her to be his wife and she says that not only did she accept, but that the wedding day was set. She claims that since that date she has always been willing to become his bride, but that he has refused to lead her to the altar. She further alleges that members of the defendant's family have been influential in dissuading Smith from fulfilling his part of the alleged agreement.

Added to the breach of promise suit is a suit in equity in which Miss Matteson alleges that Smith induced her to deed to him her homestead and surrounding lands for $1300, and a life interest as she thought. She says that Smith induced her to do this because he wanted her to be freed from designing relatives.

Mr. Smith formerly lived in New Bedford, but has made his home here for several years. He has constructed mills all over New England, and is generally rated as very wealthy.

THE VERY LAST WORD ON PARISIAN FASHIONS

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Last night I acquired an enemy for life merely through the misguided net of telling a former friend the truth. This morning when I awoke I made a solemn vow never to be caught guilty of such a crime again, but before 12 o'clock I had broken that vow. It is surely a depressing outlook for the moralist, but the truth as a virtue has been for centuries waning in popularity, and now it has gone entirely out of fashion. The very last thing required in social, political and artistic life today is truth. Under the circumstances, therefore, to make a success in any department of life you must lie, and the longer and louder you lie the more popular you will be, especially in society, for if no politician dare speak the truth to his constituents, if no theatrical manager dare put it on the stage, if no author can afford to depict it, and no artist knows how to, it is certainly asking too much to expect the mere individual to express anything so unpopular as the truth. Our whole social success depends upon concealing it, for society, being wholly artificial, demands the suppression of everything that is natural, and there is no doubt that the natural impulse of every healthy minded person is to speak the truth. But it is not an impulse that is wise to develop. Occasionally, of course, it comes out, but the consequences are nearly always disastrous. Even when it is pleasant it is hardly advisable, for people are not used to it, and they are apt to misunderstand. An incurably truthful person is nearly always accused of posing and arouses more suspicion than does the presence of golden hair and paint.

The Truth an Unpleasant Article.

As a rule, the truth is unpleasant. That is why it has to be suppressed. Presumably it is not natural to love your neighbor, but you pretend to. "I have a little friend, but I hate him," said a small boy when asked by an elderly relative if he had no one to play with. Undoubtedly there are occasions when we all feel like this little boy, but in society we go on playing with the friend we hate just the same, principally for the reason that we hate to be seen playing by ourselves, for it is all part of the insincerity of the age that people have not the courage to take their own line of thought upon this subject. They live in such an atmosphere of pretense that they literally dare not do the things they want to do. They are so busy calling on people they ought to know that they have no time to visit with those they really like. Instead of inviting their friends to functions and leaving their enemies out in the cold, they lavish dinners and theater parties on the latter and put the former off with weak tea and stale sandwiches left over from feeding the rich and socially powerful. Oh, but it is a horrid code, and the worst of it is those people have no idea they are telling lies, acting lies and living lies all day long. They would be very indignant if any of us told them they did stretch the truth to the limit. And the fact remains that if you are to live in peace with your neighbor you must lie, for the one thing he will not permit you to tell him is the truth. Even when he asks you, you must lie. Perhaps it would be more correct to say when "she" asks you for it, for, after all, it is, as a rule, only women who insist on being told the truth and who never forgive the person who tells them. Men, knowing how disagreeable the truth is, do not trouble to find out, and even when Madame Veracity stares them out of countenance they turn their heads in the opposite direction. The amusing part of it all is that we have been at the business of lying so long and have progressed so little. It is not an art, but just crude sign painting. You and I know how feeble the average lie is, too feeble to take anybody in, and that nothing is rarer than a really good Munchausenism. Perhaps the reason for this is that only a very truthful person is capable of a really magnificent invention. Most persons flitter away their imaginations in small deceptions and, when an occasion arises, as it sometimes does, when it is better to sacrifice the truth than to betray a friend or to spoil a good lie as if they had not known what it was, they stray from the truth. As it is, there is no lie so unconvincing as the lie of the confirmed fibber.

Now the Lizard Hat.

Quite as unconvincing in the fashion world as the bungled ab in the moral region is the outlandish lizard skin hat. The very idea makes one creep, but for automobiling it is the latest cult. The lizard skins are mostly from South America, and killing the reptiles there for the Paris market, where the lizard skin hat originated, is a profitable business. And speaking of motoring reminds me of a trip I took with some friends to Clermont. On the journey a tire burst, and we were detained about a half hour to repair the damage. This happened near a little village called Froissy, delightfully situated in the Oise. We gathered flowers until the moment for departure and consequently saw nothing of the place. But had I known then what I learned today I would have stayed there and made a study of this wonderful spot—wonderful indeed, so remarkable that I would not be surprised to hear at some later day when the suffragists cease from suffering that it has been made the Mecca of the faithful. Just now it is a sleepy old town, but feminism is not a vain word in Froissy; it has entered into the very marrow of the villagers. All important posts are held by women. There is no postman, but a "postwoman." If you enter the little barber shop at the end of the only street in the village you will find a woman there wielding the scissors and handling the razor in an expert manner. The village crier proudly carries her drum and belongs to the gentle sex. Her father held this important post before her. At the postoffice the official is, of course, a woman. And you would look in vain for a telegraph boy; this article is now extinct in Froissy. The boys were found to neglect their duties, absorbed by the sport of stealing apples, so now it is a telegraph girl who carries dispatches, and she never strays from the path of duty. Lucky Froissy!

A HOUSE GOWN OF GRAY CASHMERE

lace, gauze or soft silk. The Parisienne has been wearing this scarf all summer, but women who do not keep right up with every phase of the fashion market have been sufficiently occupied with watching the fluctuations of the much talked about and little seen sheath skirt and have given little heed to the hip scarf, the companion frock equipped with a hip scarf of front of the skirt in a long, dangling fashion. The idea is to do away with the long, plain directoire lines of the skirt. Mrs. Potter Palmer affects the hip scarf, and before she left Paris for the States she had several frocks made by famous couturiers with the hip scarf as the most striking feature of the creations. One handsome costume with a gauze drape about the hips she elected to wear at a smart party given at Dorchester House by Ambassador Reid for his daughter just before her marriage to Hon. John Ward.

Unlike many of the new styles the hip scarf may be cleverly used to conceal the date of a last season's gown, for with its friendly assistance the high waist line is achieved. Before applying the scarf it would be well to make a few experiments with the piano drape, or, if such an old fashioned decoration is obsolete in your home, a few yards of cheesecloth will answer the same purpose. I suggest a dress rehearsal merely on account of the perishable qualities of the fabrics used for the new hip effects. Gauze and chiffon often rebel at a too strenuous manipulation.

The season's eccentricities of dress have brought about quite a revolution in the wearing of even the ordinary sash. Instead of fastening in the usual manner at the back it is now seen closing at the sides, fronts or midway between any of these points, according to the taste of the wearer. The high girdle is the most fashionable and effective arrangement and is composed of a deep piece of very supple satin, crape or chiffon crossed at the back, the ends carried to the front, tied a little to the left and then allowed to hang straight almost to the hem of the dress. Black is the color generally used for the girdle sash, and on a black and white material or on a fabric where the design shows a thread of black it is taken as a theme for the sash nuance. The black sash gives the necessary French touch, that suspicion of the subtle hue invariably to be found in the best Parisian confections. As a parting suggestion, when you feel cool enough to think of buying fall togs, don't forget that a muff and boa of green and navy blue ostrich feathers and a big toque of the same colors, but carried out in feathers of a flat nature, will be the chic set to wear with your tailored suits of lightweight cloth.

PRETTY PETTICOATS.

Every season the daintiness and absolute perfection of the underskirt seem to increase, and nowadays one never catches a glimpse of anything but an immaculately neat and clean petticoat. Indeed, many girls are rightly even more particular about the cut, fit and general smartness of the petticoat than of the skirt which is worn above it.

In the making up of smart petticoats for all occasions great economy can be practiced by making the deep trim only and mounting it on the upper part of a well fitting foundation, fitted with buttons, to which relays of frills can be fitted and worn on different occasions, each frill being set into a band in which buttonholes are cut to correspond with the buttons on the foundation.

THE ART OF CONSERVING ONE'S WORKING ABILITY

THERE is a great art in knowing how to spare oneself. The woman who wins out in this world is not merely the one who has brains, but the one who has strength.

You can't hope to get anywhere if you let small things worry you and keep you down. You know how easy it is to spend $5 on nothing at all; how it all goes for little things, 5 cents here and a quarter there. Well, that is the way with one's life. It can all be frittered away on small happenings and worries, with nothing to show for it.

The remedy is the same whether for the wasting of money or of life, and it is to keep accounts. When you find you are wasting your money you stop, don't you? And so should you when you find you are wasting your life.

Cut out all those little things that eat up time and strength. Simplify strength, which is the same to you as having money in the savings bank.

No woman can hope to succeed in this world who does not know how to sleep and how to eat. Sounds foolish, but there's a lot of sense in it. How many people lie awake after they have gone to bed worrying their heads off! Is there any sense in that?

Will worrying ever help anyone? You can't do anything in the dead of the night, can you? But tomorrow, when you are able to do something in the way of adjusting things, you will be so worn out from lack of sleep that you won't be any good.

An Iron Will.

One of the most successful business men I know—he has been through some hard reverses, by the way—told me that even on the night before the firm failed he slept like a log.

I thought he was a human clam at the time; now I know he was a wise man. Sleep was a habit with him. The minute he touched the pillow he banished with an iron will all care because he realized that the worse the situation the greater need of sleep and rest he had. He knew, you see, how to give himself strength, and that was probably a great factor in his success.

Why can't women be as wise? Then there's the question of eating. If you want to be strong and able to accomplish a great deal, study your needs, my dear madam. If you are slow moving and flabby, why feast on starchy messes the way you do?

Strength is to be obtained from good rare beef and not from floury concoctions. Learn to eat at regular hours and make yourself do so. Women who slight their meals need not wonder at their lack of strength. No girl ever lunched.

It is what you eat and how you sleep that determine your activity.

We have ignored this fact too long. If you want to be successful, then, you must take care of yourself. You must eat and sleep scientifically and give up worry and useless things that wear you out.

Try it and notice the difference. I cannot understand why the American woman clings so long to the plaited skirt. Over in Paris they gave it up ages ago.

The plaited skirt is one of the hardest things to do up that have ever been invented. The plaits don't stay in, and if the wearer be at all plump she looks like a veritable Mother Bunch in the combination of kimono sleeves and plaits around the hips.

The gored skirt not too full or the circular one is infinitely more practical and becoming.

The short waisted models are still all the rage, and nothing can be much more becoming to the average woman than one of these plain waists trimmed with bands of embroidery, the lines of which fairly melt into a plain skirt, which clings somewhat and adds to the slenderness of the figure.

Long sleeves are here for good, and all smart women are even wearing them in this weather, which is certainly a sacrifice to fashion.

The other day at the casino I noticed a particularly effective guimpe dress of pale blue linen. It was trimmed with eyelid embroidery picked out with touches of black and white, but the guimpe worn with it was the thing that attracted me. It was so simple and yet so effective. The material was fine net. The yoke and the skin tight full length sleeves were laid in fine tucks about an inch apart. That was all there was to it, but figure to yourself the work.

There is a bride here at the hotel, and the other day she was kind enough to show me her trousseau. What particularly interested me were the nightgowns, because a great change has come about in the making of these, and I thought perhaps you would like to hear about the latest designs.

In the first place, all smart nighties are made on the chemise plan. They slip over the head without any buttons or unbuttoning. They are also quite narrow, with hardly any fullness at the neck and what there is is laid in tucks, not gathers. They are cut very low in the neck, and the sleeves are mere ruffles. A great many are made on the empire plan, with a wide banding below the bust, through which a ribbon is drawn.

One of the prettiest models the bride showed me was trimmed with bands of embroidery in a daisy pattern. The bands formed a deep V in front, into which was set a medallion representing one large daisy. The short sleeves were of embroidery founcing to match.

Another odd gown was trimmed with broad flat valenciennes. Two edges joined together by means of an insertion formed a stole which fell over each shoulder and reached to the waist line.

Under this were glimpses of a broad heading run through with satin ribbon.

Pale pink and pale blue crystalline nightgowns form part of every bride's trousseau, and this was no exception.

Crystalline is a soft material closely resembling chiffon, but washable. It lends itself beautifully to fine embroidery.

There were also two nightgowns made of the new crossbarred dimity which is so much the rage for underwear. This washes beautifully in spite of its fancy appearance. These crossbarred muslins were trimmed very effectively with English eyelid embroidery.

Circular, oddly shaped berthas are much in demand—the gathered ones are all out of date, by the way. These berthas are headed by the very widest of headings, through which inch-wide ribbon is run.

A single letter is embroidered in front of the berthas, and if you want to be very fancy you can inclose it in a circle of eyelid embroidery.

There is such a thing as being too kind hearted—about animals, I mean. Women who rave over the wrongs of dumb beasts, by the way, are won't be quite so kind, not to say cruel, to their human neighbors. I wonder why it is? Are our hearts so small we haven't room for both?

However, it is nothing short of maddening sometimes to go out walking with Mrs. Kind Heart. She keeps seeing tragedies. If she had her way no horse should be urged to go faster than he personally cared to go. She would far rather have the horse's owner get out and pull his load, while the beast sat back in the shafts and took the air.

She picks up caterpillars and pinching beetles and calls them lovingly by their first names, or, at least it sounds like that, and, as for snakes, she just dotes on them.

Would you mind carrying that little fuzzy worm out of harm's way? You do mind and say so quite emphatically. She looks at you as if you were a brute unspeakable.

When you go driving with her your friendship is put to a severe test. No whip is ever used. She clucks to the animal or dusts him with the reins, and if that won't do, why, you just have to be satisfied with his gait; that's all.

She talks to him all the time, and you fit in your conversation as well as circumstances permit. Some day I expect her horse is coming back to sit in the wagon. Why not? He does exactly as he pleases and knows too much now to be a horse.

This sort of thing by contrast makes one feel rather brutal, and I confess to being heartily glad when a girl stood up in a cart right in front of the Country club and patted a horse thoroughly with a whip because he tried to be obstinate and go back to the stables.

If you are going to drive, why, you must be master of the situation and not let the horse get ideas; that's all.

YEGGS IN CHELMSFORD

Fred McEnany Knocked Down and Robbed

Yeggs Visited Fred Salmon's Hen Houses But Were Frightened Away by Two Shots From His Revolver

The yeggs have got to North Chelmsford and that village is in a state of alarm over their arrival. Last night about 10 o'clock Mr. Fred McEnany claims to have been knocked senseless and robbed of $5 by an unknown highwayman and at 2 o'clock this morning the yeggs attempted to get into the hen-houses of Fred Salmon in the village and the latter hearing them fired two shots from his bedroom window which had the effect of frightening them away.

Mr. McEnany left the barber shop shortly after 10 o'clock to go home, and to get to his destination took a short cut through an alley which runs from Highland avenue to Church street, one end being at the home of Ex-Secretary Dunning in Highland avenue and the other in Church street just in the rear of the residence of Rev. Dr. Schafeldt, of St. John's church.

The alley is not lighted and is quite narrow, an ideal place for a hold-up. McEnany was proceeding through the alley totally unconscious of any impending danger when without warning he was struck on the head from behind and knocked senseless. He recovered consciousness in a short time and arose to find that his pockets had been rifled and $5 taken. He raised an alarm but no trace of the highwayman could be found.

About two o'clock this morning Mr. Fred Salmon who conducts a small poultry farm, raising pedigreed birds heard a noise from the hen-houses in the rear of his house. As thieves had attempted to get in a short time before, he immediately got his revolver and went to the window. In the darkness he could see the dim figure of a man between the hen-houses and he immediately fired two shots in the direction of the man. The latter took to his heels. At daylight Mr. Salmon made an investigation and found that the hen-houses had not been entered.

Mr. Salmon reports that hen thieves are becoming quite numerous in Chelmsford and the neighboring towns. The two acts of lawlessness have caused considerable excitement in North Chelmsford and the residents are looking to their guns.

LAWYER KERWIN

Spoke at Birthday Party of Cardinal Gibbons

James J. Kerwin, Esq., of this city, who with Mrs. Kerwin, is traveling in Europe, took part in exercises held on board the steamship Koenig Albert, in observance of the 74th anniversary of the birth of Cardinal Gibbons, who was also a passenger on the boat. A fine program that included addresses by prominent clergymen, educators and professional men and vocal selections by noted artists was given.

Among the speakers was Lawyer Kerwin, and Mrs. Kerwin contributed a vocal solo, "The Years at the Spring." Mr. Kerwin's address was as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Your Eminence and Rt. Rev. Bishops, Rev. Priests, Ladies and Gentlemen: To be called to address Your Eminence on this occasion is an honor of which I am deeply sensible and one which I greatly appreciate.

Speaking as I feel perhaps and do for the younger generation, let me also on this anniversary of your birth, extend to you our very best wishes, and to paraphrase an expression of the celebrated Dr. Holmes "congratulate you on being seventy-four years young."

Of your career as a priest, archbishop and cardinal, I will not speak, for I feel there are others present who are better able to testify to the greatness and character of your work and what you have accomplished as a great and true servant of God and His holy church. But, as a citizen of a common country, I feel perchance on this occasion, that I have the right to extend to you the grateful feelings of your fellow countrymen for all that you have done for the good of the commonwealth, for I can recall many occasions when, by the fearless expression of thoughts and ideas on questions pertaining to public morals and government, you have caused men to think long and earnestly and act with that caution which made for the better condition of all.

Others are yet to address Your Eminence, and as the time of each speaker must necessarily be short, I speak close. Accept then, we pray Your Eminence, our veneration as a prince of the church, our sincere tribute of respect to your personality as a man working for the good of all mankind.

May your years be many and attended with peace and the best of health.

Greenwell hit to O'Toole and was out at first.

Came to Grief After an Ascen- sion Today

FARNBOROUGH. Aug. 15.—The British army dirigible balloon came to grief this afternoon upon returning here after an ascension. The ship had just landed when the wind caught it broadside and overruled it. Col. W. Capper, commander of the military school Aldershot and Capt. F. S. Cody, the American inventor, managed to jump out of the car unhurt but the balloon was badly torn and the propeller damaged before the troops were able to capture it.

The airship had just previous covered about 20 miles with and against the wind during which flight it behaved well.

Captain Baldwin will now have an opportunity to make three trials for endurance. He must remain in control of the balloon for a period of not less than two hours.

Three Insurance Cases to Be Tried at Next Term

Falling Blind Leads to Suit Against Geo. Husson the Syrian Real Estate Owner—Other Local Cases For Fall Term

J. Joseph O'Connor, the well known attorney has three interesting insurance cases coming up at the next term of the superior court. In the first John B. Kelly, an administrator of the estate of the late Margaret Kelly, formerly of Lawrence street, sues the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, for $400 on a policy for that amount made payable to her son. The insurance company claims that the policy was obtained through alleged false representation. In the second case John B. Kelly sues the same company for $500 to recover on a policy made payable to him. A similar defense will be offered in this case. The third insurance case is that of Margaret Starr vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance company in which the plaintiff sues to recover $50, the amount of a policy on her mother's life, which the company has refused to pay on the ground that false representations were made in obtaining the policy.

SHUTTLE CO. SUE.
Lawyer O'Connor also has brought suit against the U. S. Bobbin and Shuttle company in behalf of Raimundo Santos, a former employee of the company, for injuries to the head and body received by a piece of wood flying from a machine. The ad damnum in this case is $200.

GEORGE HUSSON SUE.
Suit has been brought by Lawyer O'Connor against George Husson, the well known Syrian real estate owner in behalf of a boy named William Dalton who while passing a building owned by Husson at the corner of Suffolk and Adams streets was struck on the head receiving a fractured skull. He sues for $200.

BOSTON & NORTHERN SUE.
The Boston & Northern is sued for $500 by Lawyer O'Connor in behalf of Patrick Shea, a driver for the Nelson Morris company whose wagon was struck by an electric car in Middlesex street not long ago throwing him into the street and inflicting serious injuries.

THE GANNON CASE.
Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan have been retained by the estate of the late Mary J. Gannon, who was killed by an electric car in Gorham street last Saturday and in all probability will bring suit after the hearing on the manslaughter case, August 20, Messrs. Hogan

ACCIDENT DAY

Boy Killed and Singer Fell Over Footlights

HAVERHILL, Aug. 15.—One boy killed by a car, a stage favorite's fall over the footlights of an outdoor theatre, coupled with the rescue of a boy from drowning and the injury of a trainman in the local freight yard, made up a chapter of accidents here today.

Six-year-old Lester Elms had his life crushed out beneath the truck of a Boston & Northern car, directly in front of the city stables on River street.

He had left the home of his parents at 215 River street and started to cross the street behind an incoming Lawrence car. This was followed by a Pine car, and in an instant the lad was beneath the tender, the body finally bringing up on the trucks.

Miss Esther Wallace, a dramatic soprano, who has been taking part in the production of "A Jolly Fellow" at the Pines Amusement park, lost her balance yesterday afternoon and plunged over the footlights. In her descent of 7 feet or more she struck the piano and finally landed among the members of the orchestra. She received a wrenched ankle and internal injuries.

In the Bradford district, 10-year-old John McCue of 10 Lafayette street was playing on a coal scow at the wharf of the Haverhill Box Board Co., when it was struck by a tug and the boy was knocked into the river. A liverman, whose name could not be learned, plunged overboard and rescued the boy.

In the Boston & Maine freight yard this afternoon Michael Lynch, a yard conductor, was knocked down by a box car. One of the wheels crushed three toes and injured his ankle so seriously that at the local hospital it was said last night that the foot may have to be amputated.

Resolutions Introduced at the I. T. U. Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—A resolution that the International Typographical union endorse the democratic platform and candidates presented at the 54th annual convention of the union in this city last yesterday, three the convention into a keen and spirited debate in which members of several parties took prominent part for and against the resolution. The resolution was finally withdrawn by request of the president, who suggested it would be preferable to have the resolution defeated, as it surely would be, and put the union on record as having "thrown down Bryan."

A declaration of political principles which contained no reference to parties or candidates was adopted. A proposition that the International Typographical union sever its connection with the American Federation of Labor and the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress was warmly discussed and defeated.

The declaration of political principles recommended to the membership that they carefully study political parties and measures to vote as to best protect their interests as workmen and to prevent their being used as political party appendages.

Delegate Compton of San Francisco presented the resolution seeking the severing of ties with the A. F. of L. and Canadian congress. The committee reported unfavorably. Mr. Compton started the political talk by declaring he believed the A. F. of L. to be a political organization today.

Thomas N. Nolan of Boston, declared President Compton attended the two great political conventions to ask for assurances of support of laws against injunctions as desired by organized labor, and he had a right to make his own personal choice of parties with which to affiliate himself.

The report of the committee, unfavorable to the resolutions was then adopted.

Resolutions by Delegate Henry West of Birmingham, Ala., then came up for discussion. They were for the assurance of support of laws against injunctions as desired by organized labor, and he had a right to make his own personal choice of parties with which to affiliate himself.

Whereas, Samuel Gompers, the Napoleon of organized labor and a life-time republican has lost faith in his old party and is now supporting the democratic ticket in the hope of securing labor's needed reforms; and

Whereas, through Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, William Jennings Bryan and others who are known to be friends of trade unions and the masses of the people have secured promises of fair legislation and fair execution of law, he therefore

"Resolved, that the I. T. U., in 54th annual session, do endorse the National democratic platform, adopted at the Denver convention and urge all the trade unionists to use every honorable means to secure the election of the democratic nominees."

Immediately a vigorous and determined argument started. The resolution could be discussed. An appeal was taken and the chair sustained.

Victor Berger of Milwaukee, a socialist, attacked the difference between the republican and democratic parties, declaring "One was as bad as the other."

Delegate Estey of Paterson, N. J., criticized Gompers and then made a plea for the independence party which he thought was best. Laughter greeted his conclusions.

It was suggested Mr. West withdraw his resolution. President Lynch declared: "I believe the resolution should be

Twins Foil Men Who Served Papers

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Count Ignatz and Count Carlos Gomboss are twins. Their friends at the Waldorf, which they frequent, say the Gombosses look as much alike as two Hungarian hussars in uniform.

Miss Loretta Phenny has begun suit in the supreme court against Count Ignatz for $50,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. Her counsel, Louis T. Schwartz, gave the papers in the case to J. W. Staff, a process server, and Staff declares he caught Ignatz for a fortnight in vain. Yesterday Mr. Schwartz, his clerk, Keze Taffe and Staff went to the Waldorf cafe.

There twirling his mustache and talking to friends, stood Count Ignatz. A little distance from him was Count Carlos, twisting his mustache and talking to friends.

As Staff, papers in hand, hurried toward Ignatz Gomboss, the count grasped the situation instantly.

"Do not bother me," he said haughtily, waving Staff away. "I am Count Carlos Gomboss. My brother, Count Ignatz, whom you seek, probably, is over there."

Ignatz strolled from the cafe; Staff hurried over to Count Carlos, who grasped the situation too.

To give his twin brother a good start, Count Carlos leisurely looked over the papers, then throwing them on the floor, rushed from the cafe and ran at top speed east on Thirty-fourth street. Staff overtook Carlos at Madison avenue.

The brothers' ruse was then disclosed. Papers were later served on both to prevent any escape.

HELD AN IDEAL OUTING AND PLAYED BALL

With modesty becoming so great a poet, the author of the following classic requests, in words written with scented ink and golden pen, not to divulge his name. He fears that once in the limelight he would be deluged with letters from other great authors and magazine people. He offers the information that he has been writing poetry since he was a little boy and his first effort, he says, delighted his parents, teachers and friends, especially because of its Shakespearean contour and power of expression.

The poem is so long we shall have to do violence to his feelings by giving merely a few sample stanzas.

NO. 1.
The Prudential Men's outing held on Thursday
Was the time of their lives, they one and all say.
They took the car from Lawrence, from there to Welch's pond,
Had lots to eat and drink of things which all were fond.

NO. 2.
When they struck the pond they played a game of ball;
Out of Lawrence, the opposing team, they took a mighty fall.
Joe Herrick, who played centre, had a basket to catch flies,
But a hole was in the basket much to little Joe's surprise.

NO. 3.
Tom Trainor, who was umpire, couldn't see it Johnnie's way.
Then Bill he up and told him he'd umpire no more that day.

He lasted three whole innings, the bombardment then began.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Drug, Poslam, Now Obtainable in Small Quantities.

Since its discovery one year ago the new drug, poslam, has successfully cured thousands of chronic cases of eczema and other distressing skin affections. Heretofore poslam has been dispensed solely for the benefit of eczema patients in large jars sufficient for a month's treatment. This was found to be an inconvenience to many thousands who use it for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, sealy scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., which require but a small quantity to cure. To overcome this, and in response to urgent appeals, the dispensers of poslam have been obliged to adopt, in addition to the regular two-dollar package, a special fifty-cent size, which in future may be found on sale at Falls & Burkinshaw's and Carter & Sherburne's and other leading drug stores in Lowell, or may be ordered direct from the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 53rd street, New York City. In all eczema cases poslam stops itching with first application, and proceeds to heal immediately; chronic cases being cured in two weeks. In less severe skin troubles, results are seen after an overnight application.

Samples for experimental purposes may still be had, free of charge, by writing to the laboratories for them.

He Covered 24 Miles in His Balloon

EAST CHARLEMONT, Aug. 15.—Charles J. Glidden of Lowell, accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Clayton of Boston, landed in this town at a spot about one and one-half miles from Shelburne Falls at 7 o'clock last night.

The landing was made at a distance of 24 miles, air line, from North Adams, where the ascent was made at 5:40 o'clock. The highest altitude reached was 4400 feet, where varying currents were found which caused the balloon to spin like a top, an unusual experience.

Both Mr. Glidden and Mrs. Clayton expressed themselves as delighted with the trip. Mrs. Clayton expressed no fear throughout the journey and in fact made the landing herself, having full control of the balloon and effecting a landing as easily as stepping from a carriage.

The college gives a first class training and only graduates its students when they have reached the required standard of work. It is liberal in assisting them in their tasks and also in looking out for positions for them when they are through. The teaching force has been strengthened in both number and quality in readiness for the fall term which begins on Tuesday, September 1, both day and evening sessions. An attractive catalog is sent free to all who wish to know the details of the courses and the well-known advantages afforded graduates of this noted school.

FLAGRANT MISMANAGEMENT BY POLICE.

The yeggmen who murdered two officers in Methuen are still at large, and there seems to be no clue whatever to connect anybody known to the police with the crime.

That is the usual result when a tragedy of this kind occurs in a small town. We had a good example of that in the Arlington murder case in which Miss Mullins was the victim.

The chief of police did nothing himself, and he failed to call in the police of the neighboring cities. He had even consented to have the dead girl's belongings, including a locked trunk, shipped to her Canadian home without examination by the police for anything that would throw light on the mystery.

In such cases the state police should step in and take full charge of the case before it is too late to catch the culprits with the evidence of their crime.

There is some excuse, it is true, for the slow action of the Methuen police when two of their number were murdered. The chief is a decrepit old man and cannot be expected to do active work.

The case, so far as prompt action for the detection of the criminals is concerned, was woefully mismanaged, and it is doubtful if ever any trace of the murderers will be found. They can go on committing fresh crimes with increased confidence of security, since they have made good their escape after killing two police officers. Hereafter we may expect that the yeggs will lay plans to dispose of police officers in the same way, when as in the Methuen case these are found in lonely places.

The city of Boston did not have the success that might be expected of her well organized force in meeting the onslaught of the yeggmen. Had the gang been captured in that city there would probably have been no murder at Methuen.

LAWSON'S SCHEME TO GET MONEY.

After a great deal of blow and bluster against the "system" Thomas W. Lawson has now a scheme to put against the "system" that seems to be fully as bad as anything fathered by the "system."

According to the statement of Mr. Lawson's advertisements he has a monster corporation with a billion dollars authorized capital to put up against the systems of Rockefeller, Rogers and Morgan in the name of the Bay State Gas company. This is a scheme by which Lawson may expect to get the people's money. He has often advised the people to invest in stocks that collapsed utterly soon after his advice was given.

Lawson is a man whose advice is often very deceptive. It would not be safe to take his advice, nor would it be safe always to do the very opposite of what he advises.

Let Lawson dispose of his Bay State gas stock elsewhere. Time will soon demonstrate just what this "assault" on the system amounts to, whether it is sincere or only a bluff like many of the other schemes emanating from Lawson.

WARNING TO OTHER CITIES.

The shooting of an officer in Lynn yesterday morning with the attempt to blow open the safe at the railroad station, shows that the desperadoes are not all scared off as yet. They appear to be emboldened by the success with which some escape arrest for the greatest crimes on the calendar.

This fresh outbreak should serve as a warning to other cities to be prepared for such visitors.

The number of police, it seems, should be increased in certain parts of this city while the guards upon banks, railroad stations and large stores should be more vigilant than ever; and they should take care that no band of yeggmen can put them out of business as a preliminary to a safe-blowing job.

Recently, it must be acknowledged that, the Lowell police have done good work in catching criminals who make a specialty of burglary. It is to be hoped they will keep up the good record and see that the yeggmen cannot ply their nefarious business in Lowell and escape.

decision would be, what aim the mental marksman would make, a whisper, dull and low, broke the silence. "Father," said the whispering voice. "Yes, my son, what is it?" "I want—I want to be a back driver."

One S. E. Kiser wrote this: Yes, they used to call me "Willie," but they soon got over that; I was a same sounds very silly if its boarder's big and fat. Go your way, and go it blindly; vote for Bryan if you will. But I beg that you will kindly be disposed to call me Bill.

Lives of great men all remind us that the Wilkes are the boys. Whom we swiftly leave behind us; they produce but little noise. Let us, then, be up and doing, while the way is open still. But you'll find that trouble's brewing if you fail to call me Bill.

Please, good sir, cut out the "miser." It's a title that I hate. Let me kiss your baby sister—I can do it while you wait. Say I'm not a statesman, blame me for my record if you will. Fling mud at me and defame me, but please always call me Bill.

THAW'S BANKRUPTCY CRITICIZED.

New York Commercial: It from out a sorry mess of gush and mush and vapors and bragadoles over claims for services or supposed services in connection with the two Thaw murder trials, and with the defendant's recent move to be declared a bankrupt, it were possible to pick an opinion possessing a semblance of sanity and reasonableness, it would be the declaration by "Dan" O'Reilly, a one-time attorney in the mixup, that Harry Kendall Thaw has no legal right to go into bankruptcy. In the eyes of the law, it is explained, this man is a logically-adjusted lunatic—an insane person, formally committed to an asylum for the cure of the crazy by a justice of the supreme court of New York state; and by that very commitment he was then and there shut out from administering his estate or his person, even. There is reason and common sense and "good law" in this view of the most recent turn in the uncanny case. If anybody has a valid money claim against this man, the proper—perhaps the only—way to get it adjusted and paid is to apply to the judge who committed him or to some court of equal authority for the appointment of a committee of his person and his estate. For the Petersburg court to entertain Thaw's personal application for a receiver and to act on it was obviously illegal, and any acts by such receiver could presumably be declared null and void on the ground that a legally adjudged lunatic cannot lawfully make application for a receiver. The manner in which about 90 persons out of every 100 who come into contact with Thaw or get in any way connected with the case, apparently regard him as strongly suggestive of opera bouffe. They talk with him, quote his statements, do business with him and so on, just as they would with any man in a perfectly normal condition of mind—and yet the only thing that clothes Thaw with any measure of public importance or of public interest at the moment is the fact that he is a legally-declared lunatic confined in a "crazy house." It is this adjudication is sound and is to stand, then this lunatic ought to be treated as a lunatic, nothing more, nothing less. If he is sane; then his name let him be set loose and the disgusting farce be taken off the public stage!

WILD AND WOOLY BOSTON.

Concord Patriot: We are really becoming a little bit ashamed of old Boston. She is getting entirely too gay in her advanced years.

There was a man named Tracy out west some years ago who shot up several towns, but he was eventually tracked and disposed of, but a man can go to Boston when he likes, kill as many policemen as he can lay eyes on and when he wants to leave, turn and walk out through a cemetery or something of the kind and that is all there is to it.

There used to be a saying about the empire moving westward and that may be true, but the life that used to be common on the frontier is moving eastward.

Some years ago along the Rockies every man carried a gun, and when occasion called, fingered it carefully.

In the west now there is peace; civilization hangs along the foothills, culture and refinement as compared with Boston, are found there.

TEMPTING ACCIDENT.

New Bedford Standard: The number of railroad accidents in this country in a year is indeed appalling; and here is a sample of the way in which many of them come about. At Revere beach, last Sunday, after a train had pulled out, two men ran for the smoking car. One of them reached it safely. The other slipped and fell underneath the train to be crushed to death. One careless man escaped the penalty of his carelessness; the other paid. He will add one more to the number which will be reported at the close of this year.

and which will furnish material for many horror-stricken condemnations of the carelessness and the greed of the railroads and their indifference to human life. Necessity does not exist for excusing most of the shortcomings of railroad operation. Nevertheless, a large share of the accidents, serious and trivial, are due to such carelessness as was exhibited by the man who met his death. Revere. Examples can be seen, sometimes by the score, at almost any railway station in the United States on almost any day. When people who ride on the trains are careful not to expose themselves unnecessarily to danger, the number of accidents will materially diminish.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A committee meeting in connection with the proposed exhibition of old Chinese porcelain under the auspices of the North China branch of the Royal Asiatic society was held on the 2d instant at the residence of Mr. F. E. Wilkinson, H. B. M. vice consul.

Mr. F. E. Wilkinson, in the absence of Mr. C. O. Liddell, took the chair, and the following members of the committee were present: Dr. Cox, Dr. Stanley, Tantal Hoo Kih Mai, Mrs. Ayscough, Dr. J. C. Ferguson (honorable treasurer), and Mr. A. W. Bahr (honorable secretary).

It was resolved to hold the exhibition in or about the second week in November, 1908. A special feature was the decision to issue a descriptive catalogue, profusely illustrated, after the exhibition, which will embody the history of the ceramic art in China, and also a detailed catalogue of all the pieces exhibited. The exhibition seems to be meeting with much popularity, and exhibits are already promised from high Chinese official sources; in fact, it promises to be a unique exposition.

Owning hundreds of acres near Russell and fertile lands in the valley of the Washington river, lives Mrs. Kate O'Brien, Oklahoma's most successful woman farmer. Mrs. O'Brien manages her farm as actively as if she were a man. She raises corn, cotton, fruit, berries, and has a horse ranch, a goose ranch and many horses, mules and cattle. There is not a finer fruit farm in the state than Mrs. O'Brien's.

She has 450 acres in apples, eighty acres in peaches, and is planting another peach orchard of eighty acres. A railroad running through her farm gives her a shipping station for her fruit. From one acre of strawberries Mrs. O'Brien received $371.50 last year. Mrs. O'Brien is a citizen of the Chickasaw nation by blood, being one-eighth Indian and seven-eighths Irish. She writes cleverly and shows a keen sense of humor in her reminiscences of pioneer days and in her telling of Indian legends and customs.

Left by the main party of the mountaineers' club and compelled to compete with her husband and two other men, Mrs. H. I. Thompson of the party which ascended Mount Baker, made the ascent and descent in a half hour less than it took the principal party to make the ascent alone. Mrs. Thompson is the smallest woman to reach the summit of Mount Baker.

Mrs. Thompson, with her husband and R. H. Bailey and Mayne Senealing, left the permanent camp the night before the principal party started for the summit to see the surrounding country, having received assurances from the chief of the party, they say, that the ascent would not be made until the next day. When they were gone the main party decided to leave the permanent camp at the next day at noon the quartet, with the aid of field glasses, saw the larger group in the distance making their way up the mountainside.

The four obtained the services of Joe Morawitz, a veteran guide, and followed the main party toward their destination. Mrs. Thompson, although weighing less than ninety pounds, easily kept up with her male companions and in fact evidenced even less fatigue than they did before the summit was reached. Bravely facing the severe gale that blew around the summit, she plodded on, never once calling upon her companions or the guide for assistance.

No greater difficulties were encountered than those ordinarily met with in climbing Mount Baker. She would not admit to the men that she could endure less than they. In fact, her husband was heard to complain before she uttered a word about the hardships of the ascent.

The party was determined to make a more flattering record than the party that had left them, and aided by the experience of their guide they ignored circuitous paths and went up the face of the mountain as far as was practicable. They made many short cuts, although the aggressions were fraught with extreme danger, and succeeded in reaching the summit in a shorter time than it took Ashel Curtis and his charges to attain the crater.

On the return from the summit the party made the descent in double quick time and many were the rapid toboggan slides down steep declivities that Mrs. Thompson enjoyed. Both parties returned to the city together Monday morning.

KILLED BY GAS

Men Overcome While Hunting for Leak

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Two men were killed and nearly a dozen others were overcome in a manhole of the Empire City subway company yesterday afternoon, by gas from a leaking main.

The dead men, Michael Muldoon and Peter Collins, employees of the company, had gone on a hunt for a leak which for some time had filled the conduits with gas, and they had examined all the manholes from 23d street up to 45th before they descended into the fatal one at that point on 34th avenue.

They were in charge of Foreman Holman of the construction department, and when they failed to send up word after a reasonable time he started down to the manhole to find out the reason, but he was quickly drawn back by the fumes and shouted for help.

The police reserves, firemen and ambulances were summoned and eventually a dozen or more persons followed workers, policemen and firemen tried to rescue the two men. But all efforts were unavailing. Each man in his turn was overcome and soon had to be drawn back by the rope to which he was attached.

Few of these overcome by the fumes were revived on the spot, but the majority had to be taken to a hospital. The bodies of the two men were recovered after employees of the gas company appeared and the gas at that point was shut off.

STATE PRISON

Horrigan Gets Four to Six Years

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Judge Crosby in the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon sentenced John V. Horrigan, a South End young man, to state prison for a term of not more than six or less than four years on a charge of robbery.

With Lawrence O'Neill, whose case was not reached until next month, Horrigan was indicted on two counts of robbery. June 8, it is alleged, they held up a companion named James Brennan in the rear of 114 Hemenway street and stole $5 from him. Shortly after the job at the Back Bay Horrigan went to South Boston with O'Neill, where, it is alleged, they held up Philip Thorne, a junk dealer.

Horrigan pleaded guilty yesterday and Special Officer Murphy of the Back Bay division gave him a very hard name, testifying that he always carried a revolver, and that only a few months ago he was released from the reformatory after serving an indeterminate sentence for shooting at his brother.

Francis, alias "Mugsy" Chambers, of South Boston, was convicted of breaking and entering. The lad is but 15 years old, and Judge Crosby talked to him in a fatherly way. Chambers has kept company, the police testified, with a bad set, his gang being known as the "Forty Thieves of South Boston."

His honor sentenced him to Concord. The grand jury at its September term will consider a robbery charge in which Mugsy is one of the principals.

Everett Goodrich, aged 22, was placed on probation on a charge of stealing $1200. It was testified that he had made full restitution and was ready to lead an honest life hereafter.

John Devlin of Roxbury was sentenced to the reformatory yesterday by Judge Crosby for an indefinite term.

Young Devlin was arrested for larceny last winter and was placed on probation. The probation officials surrendered him yesterday because he had failed to keep the terms on which he was allowed to go. The police say he has been associated with some of the worst boys in Roxbury, and was arrested on charge of robbery, but the grand jury found "no bill."

"Now, my boy," said the prosperous man, by the way, this has local reference, "seeing that fortune has favored me, I feel it my duty to share my good luck with you. I am now in a position to allow you the education necessary for any of the professions that I can carry you through. I do not want you should drift with the tide, like a log, without a purpose in life, and I want that you have it in you to be something more than an ordinary lookabout. Name that of which you would have in the line of a profession, and I will do the rest."

"Father," The word that meant so much was quietly and almost softly whispered.

"Yes, my boy, what sayest thou?" said the prosperous man.

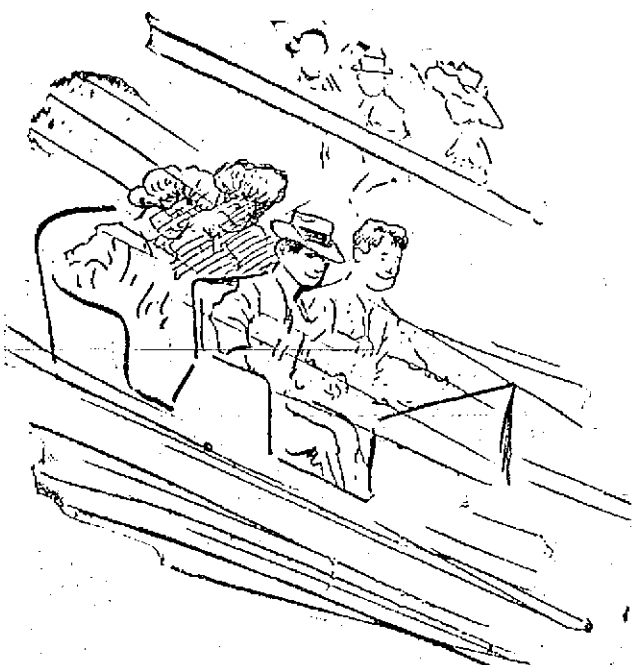

"Would I have to study?" inquired the wealthy man.

"Indeed, yes," said the father. "One must study and persevere in order to attain."

There was a pause. The son was looking wise and the loving and prosperous father could feel the tremor of the scientific thoughts that he believed were running riot in his boy's brain, and while he was wondering what the

Federal Shoe Company Takes

SHOOTING THE SHUTES.

Everybody From Supt. Shanahan
Down the Line Went to Revere
for First Annual Outing—Supt.
Shanahan Gives Shore Dinner
to 300 Employees

The employees of the Federal Shoe company and their families to the number of 300 took special cars at 7.45 o'clock this morning for their first annual outing at Revere and Wonderland. Everyone had a red badge suitably inscribed and carried a blue banner with inscription: "Federal Shoe Company Employees." Upon arriving at the grounds all had free admission to Wonderland and they took in everything.

At one o'clock all repaired to the Hotel Pleasanton, where they were the guests of Mr. Daniel W. Shanahan, the popular superintendent of the Federal Shoe company's local plant and under whose administration the plant has been very successful. A first class shore dinner was served that made everybody happy. During the dinner the crowd had much fun though everything was informal. Mr. D. B. Kingsbury, the agent of the company and one of the best known shoe salesmen in the country, was unable to attend and expressed his regrets in a letter which was read by Supt. Shanahan. Mr. J. J. Rogers, formerly with the Federal company, but now superintendent of the shoe shop in the Vermont state prison, at Windsor, wrote a humorous letter of regret stating that while it would give him the greatest pleasure to be with the crowd his present residence was such that he found it impossible to get away. He was "barred" from attending. Letters of regret were also received from William Jennings Bryan and William Taft. Mr. Bryan stated that he was obliged to keep an engagement with a phonograph company today or otherwise he would have been present. While Mr. Taft stated that while he adored shore dinners, the tailors are now finding fault with the amount of cloth necessary to build him a suit, and for that reason he was keeping away from the temptation Burroughs were missed and a toast was drunk to their good health and happiness. About 2.30 the call to wash was sounded and in a short time the Federals to a man, and child were in the line. Ernest Spaulding made a hit as a fancy diver and one young lady who didn't want her name mentioned gave an exhibition of swimming that made Annette Kellerman, the professional swimmer, get under a wave and hide. After the bath, the party took to Wonderland again, and Supt. Shanahan made a new record for shooting the shutes. At 7.30 the party were due to leave and expect to arrive home at 10.30. The committee in charge of the outing was as follows: Ernest Spaulding, chairman; Supt. Shanahan, Joe Edmunds, Miss Elizabeth Roche, Frank Rogers, Miss Agnes Fitzpatrick, Miss Agnes McLaughlin and Joseph Sheppard.

THE LATE IRA D. SANKEY.

IRA D. SANKEY
Well Known Evangelist

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Ira D. Sankey, known as an evangelist throughout the Christian world, died Thursday night at his home in Brooklyn, but the news of his passing did not become generally known until yesterday. Mr. Sankey was 63 years old and for the last five years he had been blind and suffered from a complication of diseases brought on by overwork. Almost to the very last he worked at hymn writing, the gift which had brought him fame in every corner of the earth. His tours

throughout this country and Europe with Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, brought him into wide prominence. Sankey, it might be said, wrote the Gospel hymns of the world. He received a large income from his publishers and had acquired a considerable estate. Among Mr. Sankey's most familiar compositions are: "The Ninety and Nine," "When the Saints Have Rolled Away."

His songs are said to have a circulation of more than fifty million copies. In 1902 his physical condition compelled him to give up most of his evangelistic engagements, although he continued for some time to do editorial work in compiling a new series of hymn books. Then came failing eyesight, which speedily developed in total blindness. With the blindness came a nervous breakdown. He is survived by a widow, Fannie V. Sankey, his two sons, Iallen Sankey and Edward Sankey, and two grandchildren.

E. G. RUSSELL'S SALES.

Eugene G. Russell, real estate dealer, with offices at 457 Middlesex street,
has made the following sales the past
week:

A lot of land numbered 19 on Bellevue street, near the corner of Sheldon street, on the easterly side, has been sold to a business-man of Central street, this city, whose name will be reported when the papers are recorded. This was sold for Mrs. Kate A. Roby of Nashua, N. H., through her Lowell representative, Mr. Royal Gates of Market street.

The new and modern house situated on Lura street at "The Lowell Highlands" was purchased by Mr. James Regan, the gentleman who recently bought out the Dennis Machinery and Tool company on Saunders street.

A cottage house, large lot of land with variety store, all well stocked, was sold for Mrs. Hattie G. Wakefield of upper Gorham street.

He tried to conciliate the women and
had both standing in front of the bench and giving them some good advice when the Hennessey woman said:
"Look at her (the Spaulding woman)
now. She would like to jump at me,
Your Honor."

Mrs. Spaulding was found guilty and placed in the hands of the probation officer for a period of six months.

SENT TO JAIL.

Thomas Welch tried to "hit" a pair of trousers from a counter in Morris Schulman's second-hand clothing store at 821 Middlesex street, last night, but the eagle eye of Morris was on every article of goods in the store and Welch figured without his head. When Welch was caught in the act he dropped the pants and started to run through Mid-dlessex street, but Patrolman Gilbert Sheridan seeing the fleeing man, entered the race himself and though Welch had a good handicap on him he succeeded in catching his man after a run of about a couple of hundred yards.

Welch never entered that store for the purpose of stealing the trousers, he said, but in some unaccountable manner he happened to knock them from the counter and then the man accused him of trying to steal them.

"Three months in jail," said Judge Pickman.

THE DRUNKS.

Frank Maynard and Patrick C. Cullen, second offenders, were taxed the usual $5. There were four first offenders, who escaped with $2 fines.

"John H. Dunlavy," called Assistant Clerk Trull.

"Not guilty," shouted Dunlavy before the clerk could read the complaint.

When the complaint of drunkenness had been read he again said not guilty, and said that the arresting officer, Patrolman Molony, had a grudge in his heart. "The court did not believe him," however. It was Dunlavy's fourth offense within a year and as he was under a suspended sentence of three months in jail, the suspension was revoked, and he was ordered to jail.

Catherine F. Grimshaw, a slight and pale faced girl, whose hands trembled like a leaf as a result of over-indulgence in liquor, was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint of drunkenness. Judge Pickman imposed a fine of $2, but later withdrew the fine and sentenced her to ten days in jail, he evidently feeling that a little respite from temptations would do her good.

Her husband, William H. Grimshaw, was also in for drunkenness. It was his third offense within a year and he was sentenced to three months in jail.

Patrick B. Donohoe, charged with being drunk, was held under $200 bonds for his appearance before the court Monday morning for sentence.

Patrolman Conway arrested Donohoe yesterday afternoon. He informed the court that Donohoe was drunk when he found him asleep on some steps.

ACCUSES WIFE

William Hepner Seeks
a Separation

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A sequel to the advertisement in which William Hepner, the wigmaker, made known that he was no longer responsible for
the debts of his wife, formerly Frances Lillian Hutkoff, came yesterday in the announcement that Hepner has already brought an action for legal separation. "Cruel and inhuman treatment" is the allegation in the complaint.

In an action brought through his attorney, Herman L. Roth, Hepner alleges that his wife had been in the habit of using violent language in the presence of their children, that she had treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner, etc., etc. One specific charge is that on July 16 of this year,
she "entered the defendant's place of business, created a disturbance, collected a crowd and used language too
offensive to be herein set forth."

When seen yesterday afternoon at
the summer home of her mother, Mrs.
Hutkoff, No. 1 Stratton avenue, Ar-
verne, Mrs. Hepner refused to discuss her matrimonial difficulties at any length.

Mrs. Hirschfield, a sister of Mrs.
Hepner, was more communicative.

"Our side of the story sounds very different from that told by Billy Hepner," said she. "Why, his marriage
with my sister has literally made him
in a business way, and it is her money
that he has been spending so lavishly
with his actress friends. I have known Billy Hepner for a long time,
and when he got his divorce from Louise Willie, and afterward became engaged to my sister, we all thought he was in the right."

"It was not until his engagement to my sister had been announced that I knew of his first marriage, and of the hard-working wife he separated from in order to marry Miss Willie. My sister is long-suffering, but now things
have come to a crisis."

Hepner's attorney, Roth, said yesterday that Mrs. Hepner's unreasonable temper and her manner of treating her husband made it impossible for them to live together.

"We are forced to put that notice in the paper," said Mr. Roth. "On although Mr. Hepner is a well-to-do business man, he could not stand the strain that his wife was making on his nerve. We hope to arrange the matter as soon as possible, and in that case Mrs.
Hepner will have the custody of the children for the time being. She is the proper person to bring them up."

Judge Goldfogle branded the charges
contained in the complaint as absurd.

The two little Hepner daughters,
Mabel and Beatrice, are with Mrs.
Hepner at her mother's home.

Man Was Beaten and Robbed by Yeggmen

DEDHAM, Aug. 15.—Brutally beaten, gagged and bound, George E. Collier was robbed of $35 at Dedham Four Corners, near the Hyde Park line, yesterday afternoon, by four men, and left bound to a tree in the woods nearby in an unconscious condition.

The man was heard moaning by some passing women late in the afternoon, three hours after the holdup, and an investigation being made by Wilfred Farley, the plight of the man was discovered.

Collier, who lives at 115 Cottage street, Norwood, when he had somewhat recovered at the Dedham hospital, told the police his story.

He said he was a collector for an insurance company and had been making collections in Dedham throughout the day. He started toward home shortly before 2 o'clock and had reached River street, a lonely place at Dedham Four Corners. Suddenly two men appeared in front of him and presented revolvers at his head. One he plainly saw to be an automatic gun, such as were used by the Jamaica Plain bandits. Almost at the same time two men grabbed Collier from behind. He was dragged into the small woods beside

Man Formed a Widow's Syndicate Severely Arranged by Dr. Hull

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 15.—Deputy Sheriff J. L. Sheffield of Glastonbury began search for George C. Thompson, organizer of Widows' Syndicate, who induced Mrs. Jane Elizabeth of Plainville, to marry him after she had known him four days.

He suspects that Thompson is the man who on April 23 asked Anthony Urbansky, a well-to-do farmer of Glastonbury, in Hartford, if there were any farms for sale in Glastonbury.

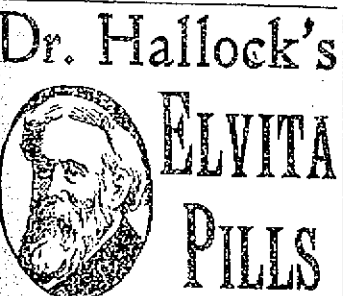

The farmer drove the man out and on the way the stranger asked about elderly women owning property. Then he told Urbansky that he was Andy Welsh, owner of Charter Oak park, and was going to buy up Glastonbury. Mr. Welsh is a reputable citizen, one of Hartford's solid men. He isn't looking for farms or real estate.

On the way they stopped at the home of a woman who knew Andy Welsh, and the stranger admitted he had made a mistake. He was not Welsh, but Walsh, a horse breeder and millionaire.

Urbansky introduced him to Mrs. W. R. Stead and "Walsh" told her he had four automobiles at home, and would she lend him her gloves. She lent them and he wore them three days.

He went to Mrs. Alice T. Sampson, a young widow, and tried to buy her house, saying he wanted to tear it down and build a mansion in its place. She refused to sell. Then he tried to buy the house of an Austrian widow and asked her if she would like him for a husband. She slapped him like him.

He induced Mrs. W. R. Stead to board him three days and went off without paying.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

Some of the Issues Involved in the Election

As if that 45 per cent penalty to keep out machinery were not comprehensive enough, the Dingley tariff puts up a still wider stretched blockade net. Section 6 reads:

"That there shall be levied, collected, and paid on the importation of all raw or manufactured articles, not enumerated or provided for in this act, a duty of ten per centum ad valorem, and on all articles manufactured, in whole or in part, not provided for in this act, a duty of twenty per centum ad valorem."

To make the net too fine for anything to slip through, section 7 provides:

"That each and every imported article enumerated in this act, which is similar, either in material, quality, texture, or the use to which it is applied to any article enumerated in this act as chargeable with duty, shall pay the same rate of duty which is levied on the enumerated article which it most resembles in any of the particulars before mentioned."

And if any non-enumerated article closely resembles two or more enumerated articles on which different rates of duty are chargeable, there shall be levied on such non-enumerated article the same duty as is chargeable on the article which it resembles paying the highest rate of duty.

And on articles not enumerated, manufactured of two or more materials, the duty shall be assessed at the highest rate at which the same would be chargeable if composed wholly of the component material thereof of chief value.

If two or more rates of duty shall be applicable to any imported article, it shall pay duty at the highest of such rates.

The Dingley tariff is a law to prevent trade—a law that forbids trade under heavy penalties—penalties of twenty to a hundred percent.

HEAVY LOSS

SARATOGA RACE MEET SHOWS DEFICIT OF $3000

SARATOGA, Aug. 15.—The race meeting here this season has lost $3000. This statement is made on the authority of an official of the Saratoga racing association. During the early part of the meeting the attendance was very light, but during the last eight days it improved considerably.

If the association had cut out many of their $1000 stakes they would have been able to meet the running expenses and ended the sport with a few thousand dollars' profit. The race meeting ends today with the Hopeful stakes, which is worth nearly $2000, the North American steeplechase and the Merchants and Citizens' handicap.

The association has figured upon a good attendance, but if it should rain and racers remain at home the loss will exceed $3000.

HER BIRTHDAY

MISS ESTABROOK PRESENTED A GOLD BRACELET

Miss Lillian Estabrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Estabrook of 32 Coggeswell street, celebrated a number of her friends. Thursday night, the occasion being the 16th anniversary of the birth of that young lady. Miss Estabrook presented Miss Estabrook a gold bracelet, suitably engraved. The hostess was also the recipient of many other beautiful gifts.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games in the different rooms that had been decorated with various kinds of flowers and ferns in an artistic manner. A pleasing feature of the evening festivities was the bountiful luncheon served by Mrs. Estabrook, assisted by Mrs. Charles Barrett and Mrs. Edward McGinnis. There were piano solos by Miss Mabel Barrett and Miss Ida Pihl. Mr. Willie Laynes and John Toy; vocal solos by Miss Esther Pihl and John Toy.

BLIND WORKERS

WON PRIZES AT INTERNATIONAL CONTEST

The Massachusetts exhibit at the international conference of the blind in Manchester, England, took three first prizes and one second, the largest number of prizes going to any one exhibit.

The conference, which is triennial, and which has just been brought to a close, was attended by more than 500 delegates from every part of the globe. It was opened by the Lady Mayoress of Manchester. In the course of her address she spoke particularly upon the wonderful art of braille, which she mentioned as progress made in this state within the last four years in the interests of the blind.

Mr. Charles F. Campbell, superintendent of the industrial department of the Massachusetts Commission for the Blind, a delegate, writing from England, says that America has much to learn from the United Kingdom in caring for the providing employment for her blind.

LOST HIS LIFE

MAN WAS CRUSHED TO DEATH AT REPAIR SHOP

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Lawrence W. Griffin, aged 33, of 28 Lamont street, Roxbury, a painter for the Boston Elevated, was crushed to death yesterday afternoon at the elevated repair shop at Washington and Gulf streets.

About 3:20 an elevated train that was being backed from the yard into the Dudley street terminal shed struck an open switch and ran into a train of three cars standing on the track being repaired. Griffin was at work on the rear car of the train.

When the crash came he was pinned between the car and the wall of the shed, and his head was crushed in.

WAS VETERAN OF WAR.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Cyrus V. Brown, Boston representative of Porter and Brothers of New York, commission broker and a well known veteran, serving a Rhode Island regiment, died last night, aged 68 years. He was born in Charlton, this state, and for many years was in business in Pawtucket. He leaves a widow.

TRAVELLING MEN'S CONGRESS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—This city shows Herman A. Metz, president, and the various officers of the Travelling Men's Prosperity congress, which began its session in New York yesterday afternoon. Plans of various bodies of unemployed men to attend the convention and be heard, caused the police to be on the alert to quell any attempt of rioting.

LOSS IS $40,000

Fire at the Agricultural College at Amherst

AMHERST, Aug. 15.—Fire early today destroyed the main building of the large barn at the Massachusetts Agricultural college here. Two valuable holstein and Jersey bulls and eleven calves, together with a large quantity of hay and farm machinery was also burned.

Two young students, W. C. and M. E. Greer, brothers of Springfield, who were acting as caretakers of the barn during their vacation and who were asleep in the building at the time, had a narrow escape. Awakened by the crackling of the flames they fought their way to the outer door, but here they were stopped

STACK FELL DOWN

At Fifield Tool Co. Whom She Found With Husband

Several workmen narrowly escaped terrible injuries, while damage to property to the extent of $150 was done by the falling of an immense chimney at the new plant of the Fifield Tool company, in Marginal street, yesterday afternoon.

The work of reconstructing the plant has progressed rapidly under the direction of E. Garfield Baker, of the Baker Construction company and yesterday preparations were made to put the 90 foot steel smoke stack in place. After much difficulty the stack was lifted into the air but it was not set to the satisfaction of Mr. Baker, who ordered it taken down again.

During the second attempt to raise the stack one of the guy fasteners gave away and the stack fell with a crash. In falling it struck on the main building, smashing the ceiling as well as a part of the floor. The stack was not badly damaged. Previous to the work, everyone not connected with the work, was warned to keep off the property. Guy fasteners were placed at convenient intervals, one of which extended over the railroad tracks and was particularly well guarded.

George Geroehn and Charles Hibbard were standing at the entrance to the engine room directly in the path of the falling stack but they ran to a place of safety. Patrick O'Connor, Frank Berard and John Monroe, escaped injury by jumping through a window.

The smoke stack was set in place today.

ATTACKS WOMAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Edward C. Gee, the wife of Edward C. Gee, a wealthy electrical contractor of 2 Wall street, told of how she had rounded out 25 years of married life by soundly thrashing her husband and another woman with a heavy leather belt at Hoyt and Livingston streets, Brooklyn.

"For 15 months, Mrs. Gee said, her husband had neglected her for a Jersey City woman. Not only did he remain away from home nights, but he refused to take her out in their automobile and cut her allowance to $14 a week. Mr. Gee's income, she said, was $200 a year.

"The woman and I had been close personal friends and I did not suspect anything was wrong until she stopped coming to see me," said Mrs. Gee. "Last April she left her husband and the same time my husband said his work would require much of his time and suggested that we live at some hotel in New York. I refused to agree to this.

"Finally I received an anonymous letter saying that my husband was running around with a former friend of mine. 'I employed a boy to trail my husband and the woman.

"This afternoon I put on some old clothes, donned a heavy veil and went over to Brooklyn with Harry Kruger and his sister. I saw my husband crossing the car tracks at Hoyt and Livingston streets arm in arm with the woman. I had brought a heavy belt which belonged to Mr. Gee. The woman drew herself up brightly and I pinched her on one cheek and then on the other. I laid the strap over her shoulders good and hard until she ran away. Then I gave Mr. Gee a taste of the strap.

"A big crowd collected and a mounted policeman said that if I didn't stop beating my husband he would arrest me. I dared him to look me up."

ARRIVE HOME

DRIVERS OF AMERICAN CAR IN BIG RACE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—G. Shuster and G. Miller, who drove the American car, winner of the New York to Paris automobile race, during the last stages of its journey, arrived here today on the steamer La Torralme, from Paris.

GENERAL WOOD

INVITED TO BE GUEST OF KAISER

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—Emperor Wilhelm has invited Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., to be his guest at the Imperial manorhouse to be held in Alsace-Lorraine in September. This invitation reached General Wood in Switzerland.

METER CO. MOVED IN.

The John C. Meyer Co., which has taken the Pickering mill, finished moving in its machinery this week. The company has spent $10,000 in making necessary changes and repairs. The plant will employ 200 hands.

TAMMANY LEADER

Says That Democrats Will Win This Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, gave out an interview today in which he declared that his view of the political situation in New York state is that "the democracy is going to win this year." Of Mr. Bryan the Tammany chieftain said:

"Mr. Bryan is much stronger in the state than he was either in 1896 or 1900. Why? I do not exactly know yet, but the fact remains that there is a variety of evidence on which to base belief in his increased popularity. 'One reason, I think, lies in dissatisfaction with Roosevelt and Roosevelt policies—too much autocratic rule and swinging of the big stick. A great many men who sided with the republican party in the past will not do so this year. It means something when men like Judge Morgan, J. O'Brien and Delancey Nicolli, who opposed Bryan in the past, are now going to vote for him."

"Will Mr. Bryan at the head of the national ticket be a help to the state democratic ticket instead of a drag, as in the past?" was asked.

Mob Wanted to Get Negroes Who Assaulted White Woman

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 15.—A mob of more than 300 men attacked Portsmouth jail at one o'clock this morning bent on lynching William King and Henry Smith, both negroes, who were held on the charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Katherine Howell, an aged white woman, last Monday. The negroes had been removed to Norfolk jail earlier in the evening for safe-keeping.

The mob forced the doors of the jail but were met by Deputy Sheriff Hursey and half a score of officers, of whom the cell keys were demanded and refused. The crowd was forced back by the policemen with drawn weapons and the fire department was called out to disperse the mob with the officers. Under orders of Mayor Reed, the police arrested Wade Codd, Martin L. Westbrooke and T. O'Williams, white men, and half a score of negro ringleaders. Warrants have been issued for a half hundred more.

At 2 a.m. the crowd had left the vicinity of the jail and it is reported that they are congregating elsewhere and intend to march to Norfolk and attack the jail in the hope of securing the prisoners.

Woman Alleges Breach of Promise Were Elected by the Eagles

PAWTUCKET, Aug. 15.—Benjamin F. Smith, one of the wealthiest citizens of Pawtucket, was sued yesterday for $50,000 by Miss Caroline M. Matteson, who says that the rich mill builder asked her to marry him just one month after the death of his wife, and then jilted her.

Miss Matteson is about 45 years old and is socially prominent, being related to many of the leading families in this vicinity. Mr. Smith is 60 years of age.

It was in October, 1907, Miss Matteson alleges, that Mr. Smith asked her to be his wife and she says that not only did she accept, but that the wedding day was set. She claims that since that date she has always been willing to become his bride, but that he has refused to lead her to the altar. She further alleges that members of the defendant's family have been influential in dissuading Smith from fulfilling his part of the alleged agreement.

Added to the breach of promise suit is a suit in equity in which Miss Matteson alleges that Smith induced her to deed to him her homestead and surrounding lands for $1300, and a life interest as she thought. She says that Smith induced her to do this because he wanted her to be freed from designing relatives.

Mr. Smith formerly lived in New Bedford, but has made his home here for several years. He has constructed mills all over New England, and is generally rated as very wealthy.

ing by Patrolman Mahoney and sent to the police station where he was booked as a suspicious character.

Upon being questioned the man said he had been out in the country district in search of work. When searched at

Men Are Charged With Breaking and Entering

Edward Flynn and Herbert Scoble, who reside in the vicinity of the fair grounds, were placed under arrest late last night by Patrolman Daniel Cogger, and at the station were booked for larceny.

While patrolling his beat the customers of the peace met the two young men who were carrying two copper boilers. They could not give a satisfactory answer as to where they got the boilers and were sent to the police station. After being put through the third degree they admitted that they had broken into an unoccupied tenement in Gorham street, East Chelmsford, owned by Charles Kappler and stole the boilers.

In court this morning Flynn and Scoble were charged with breaking and entering and larceny of two copper boilers. They pleaded not guilty, but probable cause was found and each was held under $200 bonds for the grand jury.

ASSUMPTION DAY

HOLIDAY OF OBLIGATION OB-SERVED IN LOCAL CHURCHES.

Today is the Feast of the Assumption and a holiday of obligation in the Catholic churches. Masses were ing and benediction will be held in the row and it is expected will have several new ideas for the committee to consider which he gathered on his trip.

The Holy Name society will hold a very important meeting next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Fair hall, where several interesting matters will be discussed. The society did not meet on Thursday evening, owing to the storm, and a large attendance is looked for next Friday evening.

Abraham Lincoln

Said

The plain people are the bone and sinew of the nation.

He was right, and this wise saying applies to our own city of Lowell.

The plain people made Lowell what it is to-day. They are the bone and sinew of the city. They do business in Lowell, they work in Lowell, they earn their money in Lowell, and spend it in Lowell. Most of them are too busy to read the morning paper, with yesterday's news they find it more convenient to read the evening paper with today's news and ninety-five per cent of them read The Sun. Merchants do you not see that the readers of The Sun are the bone and sinew of Lowell. Would you talk to them? Would you tell them about your wares and your prices?

Then talk to the people through the advertising columns of the people's paper—

NIGHT OF RIOTING

Continued.

Immediately after the dark had gathered crowds assembled in the vicinity of the county jail. The mood of the masses was ugly and appeals by Sheriff Warner were without effect. The sheriff commented to a committee from the crowd search the jail, assuring them that both negroes were gone.

"We will all go through," shouted some one in the crowd and the cry was taken up by hundreds.

Then someone in the crowd mentioned that Harry Loper, the restaurant man, had furnished the automobile in which the escape of the prisoners had been effected.

"On to Loper's," they shouted and by this time the maddened mob was ready for anything.

A rush was made upon Loper's restaurant, five blocks away. The proprietor was warned but failing to appreciate the seriousness of the situation did not attempt to escape until the mob was upon the place.

He was pushed by employees of the place, together with his wife, into a basement room in temporary safety.
Short work was made of the restaurant.

AUTO DESTROYED.

The automobile in which the rescue had been effected had been left in front of the place. It was quickly turned upside down and fire was set to the machine.

While the machine blazed, frenzied hundreds poured into the cafe, tore fixtures and decorations from their places and piled them upon the blaze. Even the sideboards and kitchen were stripped and all the table ware and dishes piled upon the blaze.

The fire department which had been called out a half dozen times in efforts to disperse the crowd, again made a run to the restaurant but was powerless. Every fire hose that was stretched was cut before a stream of water could be forced into it. The restaurant was stripped clean by the mob which worked without hindrance until its work was nearly completed.

The local companies of militia, consisting of a company of infantry and a company of cavalry and a galling gun section which had been ordered by Gov.
Dewey early in the afternoon was busy near the jail and the local authorities had no men to spare for the Loper place.
Finally in a desperate effort to restore order, the cavalry troop was dispatched to the restaurant.

SHOTS WERE FIRED.

Then the rioting broke loose in serious form. Shots were fired and the air was filled with missiles. Many fell in the melee and it was here that Louis Johnson met his death. After the mob had moved to other scenes Johnson's body was picked up in the rear of Loper's place.

After nothing of Loper's place remained for the infuriated crowd a rush was made for the Levee which is usually populated with negroes. But none of them had disappeared.

Attacks were made upon several store buildings in which it was believed negroes had been secreted. Entrances were forced to these places and stocks of merchandise turned topsy-turvy in the search for refugees.

Shortly before midnight the mob broke into Fishman's pawn shop and secured a quantity of rifles, shot guns, revolvers and ammunition. With these they armed themselves and started to march the streets in absolute control of the situation.

Stand back gentlemen, or I'll shoot everyone of you who touches this man" were the words of Eugene W.
Chafin, prohibition candidate for president, who faced a mob that had attacked a negro while Mr. Chafin was delivering a public address on the East side of the square last night.

PROHIBITION CANDIDATE IN-JURED.

For his act Chafin was struck on the left side of the face with a brickbat hurled by a member of the mob.

Chafin was well along in his speech when a negro walked by a mob came toward the speaker's stand. The crowd closed in on the negro and had him on the ground, beating him with their fists and clubs. The negro flur-ried away and jumped on the platform.

It was then that Mr. Chafin stepped to the front of the man, put his hand to his hip pocket and threatened to shoot anyone who touched the negro.

Mr. Chafin's threat had the desired effect although he had no weapon.

During the fight the negro pulled a knife from his pocket and slashed several white men. Mr. Chafin was not seriously injured. James Scott was struck by a stray bullet and almost instantly killed.

HOUSES BURNED.

After burning many houses in the negro quarter, the mob, which became more desperate as the night passed, finally gratified its thirst for blood this morning at three o'clock when an unknown negro was lynched at the corner of 12th and Madison streets, right in the heart of the so-called "bad lands."

TROOPS TOO LATE.

Troops arrived at the scene too late to prevent the lynching. Some of the members of the mob declared that the negro lynched had shot two white men.

They said that in a fight with the whites the negro was forced into a corner at the saloon on the corner of Twelfth and Madison streets.
